RURAL VOTE BEAT HOOVER IN INDIANA

Farm Relief Attitude Seen in Division of Strength in Hoosier State

REVEALS STRATEGY

Generally Good Policy to Invade Favorite Son's State, Politicians Say

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1928, By Post Pub. Co.) Washington.—Herbert Hoover has made an extraordinary demonstration of strength in the state of Indiana and regardless of the fact that he may not have the delegation, his fight against a favorite son of the political strength of Senator James Watson will be regarded as an excellent test of Mr. Hoover's ability as a vote-getter.

Particularly impressive is the large vote that Secretary Hoover polled in the cities, though the falling off in the country districts in Indiana is very much like what happened in Ohio. Mr. Hoover's campaign managers are elated because they think their candidate has acquired considerable prestige already for his courage in daring to oppose the regular political organizations in two such states as Indiana and Ohio.

FARM RELIEF AGAIN

Considerable comfort was derived by the Lowden-Dawes groups from the result in Indiana because it is known that the Watson votes are really to be cast for either former Governor Lowden or Vice President Dawes. The fact that an issue was made of the McNary-Haugen bill is pointed to as an evidence how a mid-western state feels on the farm relief issue.

What the Indiana primary proves is that Secretary Hoover has a hard battle winning the support of the rural vote in the republican party, but whether this would mean that the country districts would rather vote for a democrat than Hoover, is not indicated or whether they merely prefer another kind of republican at this time, will not be determined until the autumn.

GROWING IN EAST

The campaign in Indiana illustrates what an uphill fight Mr. Hoover is going to have in the middle western states, especially if Governor Smith should come out flatly for the McNary-Haugen bill. The Hoover strength, however, is growing in the east and is substantial in both the Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast states, so that the primary in Indiana is really an effort to win in hostile territory. Any gains made there are naturally an asset to the Hoover campaign.

If the tally shows that Secretary Hoover and Senator Watson have almost neck-and-neck, it will mean that the secretary of commerce has made a remarkable showing from a political standpoint. For in the first place it is not considered good strategy for a candidate to invade a favorite son state, because the favorite son usually administers an overwhelming defeat. Secondly, Indiana is in the throes of a political reorganization and the Hoover votes are significant of a protest against the regulars.

The politicians in other states are not eager to do battle against a man who can poll as big an anti-organization vote as did the Secretary of Commerce in the Hoosier state on Tuesday. If Mr. Hoover gets his nomination over the heads of the regular party organizations in some of the very states that have been under criticism, he will have made long strides toward capturing the independent vote in the republican party generally.

ITALIAN AVALANCHE TAKES HEAVY TOLL

Antona, Italy.—(AP)—An avalanche caused nine deaths near here Wednesday night.

Three persons were killed and eighteen injured when the fast night train collided with a huge pile of earth which completely blocked the railroad tracks between Cupra Maritima and Nettuno, near San Benedetto del Tronto. Traffic will be interrupted for several days.

The avalanche, which was caused by recent heavy rains, also demolished nine houses and six bodies were taken from them.

Japs Won't Listen To Mediation

Tokyo.—(AP)—Japanese troops Thursday continued to battle against the Chinese Nationalists around Tsinan in an attempt to disarm them and it was stated unofficially in government circles that Japan would neither ask nor accept mediation in the Shantung affair.

Four Japanese were killed and twenty wounded when the Japanese brigade under General Sotomura joined battle with a powerful force of Chinese under General Chen Tiao Yuan. The Chinese casualties were heavy.

Prior to this engagement, General Sotomura's forces had succeeded in disarming a force of Southerners at Kotten, about 15 miles east of Tsinan. The Japanese forces also occupied many strategic points around Tsinan. The unofficial government view regarding mediation was that Japan did not consider the present war and that therefore the matter could be settled diplomatically between China and Japan. It was not believed that American would assume the role of mediator in the dispute. The United States would be regarded as propaganda emanating from Tsinan. A war office report placed the blame for the fresh outbreak of fighting on the Nationalists. It stated that the Japanese, noting an absence of good faith on the part of the Nationalists, attempted to negotiate with them to disarm. The nationalists resisted and five thousand of them attacked the Japanese. Thereupon the Japanese swept the main force from the city.

MISS GALE OFF BOARD OF LITERARY GUILD

Portage.—(AP)—Miss Zona Gale, noted authoress, resigned from the board of editors of the Literary Guild several weeks ago, she said Thursday. She said that she wished any announcement of her resignation might come from the New York offices of the monthly book-supplying organization, but that she had submitted it some time ago and had told several friends about it, so the resignation had become known.

Judge Who Was 'Too Busy' To Give Up Job Is Dead

St. Paul.—(AP)—Judge Walter H. Sanborn of the United States circuit court of appeals died suddenly in his apartment here Thursday morning. Judge Sanborn was 53 years old and had been on the federal bench for 35 years, first for the federal district of St. Paul and then as U. S. circuit judge.

Judge Sanborn, who came to St. Paul five days ago for the May term of the circuit court of appeals, had been suffering from a cold for several days. Wednesday his condition became worse and a physician was in attendance most of the day. Early Thursday his condition took another sudden turn for the worse, and his son, Bruce Sanborn, an attorney here, was called to his bedside.

When Judge Sanborn of the United Circuit Court of Appeals reached the age of retirement he declared he was "too busy to consider growing old through inactivity."

His statement was a reply to rumors that he would quit the bench. He emphasized his declaration by continuing in active service for more than ten years hereafter, making a total of more than 25 years on the bench of the Federal Courts.

During that time Judge Sanborn wrote more than 1,200 decisions and opinions, many of which have become

WALL STREET SEES BATTLE OF OIL KINGS

Doubts Rockefeller's Ability to Oust Him as Chairman of the Board

COURT ACTION AHEAD

District Attorney Brings Up Testimony Given at Teapot Dome Hearing

Washington.—(AP)—Seeking indictment of Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, District Rover Thursday submitted to the federal grand jury the transcript of the oil man's testimony before the senate Teapot Dome committee on February 2 and 3 and on April 24.

New York.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has requested the resignation of Colonel Robert W. Stewart as chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. His action followed testimony of Col. Stewart before the senate committee investigating the naval reserve oil leases.

Mr. Rockefeller in a statement published Thursday making known the request, said he had taken that action because he had "lost confidence in Colonel Stewart's leadership."

In a letter to Colonel Stewart on April 27, the statement disclosed, Mr. Rockefeller called upon him to "make good the promise you voluntarily gave me some weeks ago that you would resign at my request."

A further letter quoted in the statement indicated, however, that Mr. Stewart might not resign without a fight.

The Rockefeller's holdings in the Standard of Indiana are approximately 15 per cent of the total stock. Colonel Stewart, who was in New York for conferences believed to have been in connection with Mr. Rockefeller's action, left the city for Chicago by train before the statement was made public. There was no information in circles identified with his company as to whether he intended to accede to Mr. Rockefeller's request.

The statement issued by Mr. Rockefeller follows:

"On April 27th I wrote Colonel Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, the following letter:

"Dear Colonel Stewart:

"Your recent testimony before the senate committee leaves me no alternative other than to ask you to make good the promise you voluntarily gave me some weeks ago, that you would resign at my request. That request I now make.

"Very truly, John D. Rockefeller, Jr."

"STREET SEES BATTLE

The New York Herald-Tribune says Wall Street views Mr. Rockefeller's efforts to oust Colonel Stewart as the first test of strength of the Rockefeller interests since the dissolution of the Standard Oil trust in 1911. The paper says that the street is not at all sure of the outcome, feeling that Stewart can muster as much strength in the Indiana company as the head of the family which formerly dominated the entire Standard empire.

The New Hampshire senator predicted in a statement that when the time arrives for Watson to let go of his delegates, the commerce secretary's strength will have been so forcibly shown that the Indiana delegates will come to Hoover with the tide.

Watson's victory was gratifying to his national campaign manager, M. Burt Thurman. Expressing his satisfaction with the result in a statement in Indianapolis, he added:

"Our campaign was conducted without malice and with a view of maintaining party harmony after the primary contest. It is my hope that our desire for party harmony be fulfilled in order that all Republicans who supported both Senator Watson and Secretary Hoover may work at the polls for success at the November election, giving loyal support in the Republican nominee."

Having won in Indiana, he said a drive would be concentrated on nominating Watson.

Looking at the vote from another angle, F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, said in a statement issued here that the result again demonstrated the "folly of any assumption in order that all Republicans who supported both Senator Watson and Secretary Hoover may work at the polls for success at the November election, giving loyal support in the Republican nominee."

On November 10, 1874 Judge Sanborn married Emily F. Bruce of Milwaukee. They had four children.

TELLS WHAT IS COSTS TO SEEK THE PRESIDENCY

Appearing before the Senate Campaign Fund Committee, these four presidential candidates are pictured as they prepared to take the stand to account for their expenses in seeking the nomination. SPLIT VIEWS ON EFFECT OF HOOVER VOTE

Hoover Supporters Think Delegates Will Swing Away from Watson

Washington.—(AP)—Varying opinions as to the effect the Indiana primary results will have on the candidacy of Herbert Hoover for the Republican presidential nomination were being expressed by interest by political observers Thursday as final returns trickled in to show Senator Watson's margin of victory.

Pro and Anti-Hoover forces were far apart in their interpretations of the Indiana senator's besting of the commerce secretary in the preference voting, which means Watson will get the state's 33 delegates to the national convention.

By failing to carry the state, Watson supporters and other Republicans who have organized to stem the tide of votes for Hoover in convention claimed the secretary had given a significant defeat.

While admitting the defeat, Hoover's forces called attention to the big vote their candidate polled and predicted many of the Indiana delegates would switch to Hoover once they are released.

Hoover himself declined to comment, but James W. Gorman, the district head of his campaign, said the secretary had made a remarkable showing of popular strength in Indiana.

Senator Moses, of New Hampshire, a Hoover supporter, thought the "sole immediate effect" of the Indiana voting would be to "put the 33 delegates on the shelf."

The New Hampshire senator predicted in a statement that when the time arrives for Watson to let go of his delegates, the commerce secretary's strength will have been so forcibly shown that the Indiana delegates will come to Hoover with the tide.

Vicar Offers 'Tips' For Prospective Husbands

London.—(AP)—The vicar of St. Philip's church in London, offering "tips" to prospective husbands with the department and responses of bridesmaids in his Battersea district. In his magazine he gives the following tips to prospective bridegrooms:

"Don't rush at the blushing bride when she joins you at the altar steps and shake hands with her. One degree of this at a recent wedding and exclaimed: 'how are you, mate?'"

"When the priest tells you to say after him 'God's holy ordinance,' don't say 'God's holy ordinance.' Some of the audiences we have seen at recent weddings here could never, by any stretch of imagination, be called holy. 'It is always best to refrain from drinking anything stronger than tea before the ceremony. The smell of alcohol is rather objectionable and especially in church."

"When the clergyman asks you to say 'truth' please don't say 'through.' The former means faith, fidelity, truth; the latter anything hollow and open longitudinally on the upper side."

BREMEN CREW OFF ON TRIP TO WEST

Leave Philadelphia Navy Yard After Strenuous Day Receiving Plaudits

Cleveland.—(AP)—The three Bremen fliers, Baron Gunther von Huenefeldt, Major James E. Fitzmaurice and Captain Hermann Koehl, arrived at Brook Park airport from Philadelphia shortly after midnight Thursday for a roving welcome from a great throng of Clevelanders.

Philadelphians.—(AP)—The German flier crew of the trans-Atlantic flight Bremen started for Cleveland Thursday, leaving the Philadelphia navy yard in the F-12, sister ship of the Bremen, at 2:13 A. M.

About 500 persons were gathered at the field to see the aircraft off. The weather was regarded as perfect for flying.

The ship got away virtually on time as the fliers had set about 9 A. M. for their getaway. Baron von Huenefeldt, Captain Koehl and Major Fitzmaurice were up early despite their strenuous trip Wednesday when they were kept on the go from noon until after midnight receiving the plaudits of the people of Philadelphia.

Many naval officers were in the throng that saw the fliers off to the west.

Captain Koehl took the plane up and Major Fitzmaurice waved his hand as the plane left the ground.

DOUBT CAROL HAS LEFT FOR FRANCE

Rumor in Great Britain Is That Former Crown Prince Is Still on Island

London.—(AP)—There were rumors Thursday that Great Britain's unwelcome guest, former Crown Prince Carol of Rumania, had gone to France secretly but it seemed certain this morning that he was still preparing to leave the Surrey estate where he had been staying.

"It was generally believed that the exiled prince would be on his way shortly since a high police official warned him that if he delayed his departure from England the home office order for his deportation would be enforced."

His next retreat was cloaked in mystery. Carol was shunning publicity as diligently as he seemed to be courting it a day or two ago when he journeyed to London and visited the zoo after the deportation order became known. The house of his fellow countryman, M. Jonescu, at Godstone, Surrey, was closely guarded against intrusion.

In some quarters it was stated that Carol had been invited to the Irish Free State, but the Daily Mail said he had been made to realize that the Free State government did not wish to be embarrassed by his presence. There was some doubt whether he would return to France and one rumor was to the effect that he was at Monte Carlo was another suggested place of refuge.

Post-Crescent Sponsors Three Day Cooking School

All women interested in modern cooking methods and new ideas in food combinations will be glad to learn of the cooking school to be held by the Post-Crescent each afternoon for the three days beginning Wednesday May 16.

The lessons will be given by a Home Economics Expert of wide experience, who has taught the art of food cooking for many years. She is Mrs. Margaret E. Brown, a graduate of the Home Economics from the Indiana State Normal, and who is now connected with the Department of Food Economics of the Corn Products Refining Company.

The lectures will cover every phase of cooking from the finest cakes to delicious pies and salads. Each afternoon there will be a lecture on some particular phase of cooking or food study, followed by a demonstration illustrating the points brought out.

The Post-Crescent feels that in conducting this school for the benefit of the housewives of Appleton it is doing them a real treat, for Mrs. Brown is considered one of the best lecturers available in this kind of work. From reports from other towns where she has been conducting schools, we know the women of our town will be delighted with this opportunity to gain expert instruction without cost to them.

HARRY A. SHANNON OUIJS JOB AS CLERK OF COURTS

BULLETIN
Harry A. Shannon Thursday afternoon announced his resignation as clerk of the courts for Outagamie county, effective on June 1. Mr. Shannon is serving his sixth term as clerk of courts. He was elected the first time in 1916 and took office the following January.

Mr. Shannon said he was in need of a vacation and will take a rest after leaving the courthouse.

His successor will be appointed by the circuit judge. Mr. Shannon's son, Sidney Shannon, is deputy clerk of the courts.

District Attorney Rounds Up Offenders When Sheriff Hands in Resignation

Shawano.—(AP)—District Attorney R. H. Fischer of Shawano-co said Thursday that if Sheriff James F. George is not "back on the job" by Monday he will have to resign. Fischer said he has held the sheriff's signed resignation for eight weeks.

After conducting himself satisfactorily until about 10 days ago, Sheriff George absented himself from his office and has not been there since, according to the district attorney, who said he had held the resignation to give Mr. George "another chance to change his ways."

Eight resorts were raided Tuesday morning by an undersheriff on the instructions of the district attorney.

Dist. Atty. Fischer said he had employed a special investigator to work on the case of Sheriff George and considered county proceedings.

Then, he said, he called the sheriff in and told him how things stood. He said the sheriff wrote his resignation and handed it to him with the statement he could turn it in if it was any further misconduct.

"The conditions got so bad in this county that something had to be done," said Mr. Fischer today. "The attitude of the sheriff was generally contumacious."

Gene Sarazen went into a tie with Walter Hagen by scoring 75 for a total of 148. Sarazen was in second place yesterday with 72. Sarazen's place was taken by J. H. Murphy, who was last when he took 70 on the 519 and 14th hole.

MILWAUKEE MERCHANT ASSAULTED AND ROBBED

Milwaukee.—(AP)—Two unmasked Negroes assaulted Henry Bulder, a one time Milwaukee city treasurer and now a stockbroker and escaped with $60 and a $200 diamond ring, cluding pursuers on a downtown street here Wednesday night.

Bulder who runs a shoe store, was alone when the Negroes entered. One asked to see some shoes. As Bulder was seated on a stool before the man he was struck a blow over his head.

The men then took $60 from the cash drawer and took a diamond ring from his finger. Bulder cried for help but by the time it came the men had vanished.

NO MONEY TO SOUTH

California Contest Most Costly of Any Section So Far Invaded

New York.—(AP)—Governor Alfred E. Smith, leading candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, testified Thursday before the special senate campaign funds committee, that he had spent no money and made no effort of any kind to further his cause.

"Have you contributed any money to the New York group?" asked Chairman Steiwer after he had placed the New York governor under oath.

"No sir," Smith replied.

"Do you expect to?"

"No sir."

"Am I right in assuming that you have made no promise of patronage?" Steiwer pursued.

"Absolutely none."

"I haven't done a single thing about this campaign even in my own state," Smith told Senator Steiwer. "I promised the people of New York when I was inaugurated that I would not go out of the state but would give my time to the affairs of the state, and, believe me, that takes every minute of my time."

"Governor, are we to understand that you are not going out of the state before the Houston convention?" asked Senator McMaster, Republican, South Dakota.

"I haven't any intention of going any place," Smith replied.

Governor Smith was on the stand for half an hour. After he was questioned Van Name testified that the total receipts for the New York Smith organization had been $108,902 and expenditures had been $92,000.25, leaving a balance of $16,901.75.

William F. Kenney, a New York lawyer, testified that he had put up $70,000 of the total receipts. Van Name said $20,000 in outright gifts and $50,000 in loans yet to be paid.

The heaviest expenditure was made in California where Governor Smith recently ran far ahead of Senators Reed of Missouri and Walsh of Montana in the Democratic primary preference primary. A total of $11,500 was sent into that state.

Van Name said that he understood that the local Smith organization in that state raised between $2,300 and $2,400.

Smith manager, a member of the New York Public Service commission, testified that no money had been sent in the southern or border states. Seven thousand dollars was sent into the far west for use in Utah, Wyoming, Nevada, New Mexico, Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho.

Chairman Steiwer asked Governor Smith about primary contests in various states.

"In Wisconsin it was necessary for me to certify that my name was spelled correctly," he explained. "It being an easy name to spell that was not a difficult matter."

"What about Oregon?" Steiwer inquired.

"I don't know anybody in Oregon," Smith said. "I have been active in the south."

"No sir, outside of my trip to North Carolina. That had no political significance. I went there for a rest after a hard winter in Albany. But I think I shook hands with everybody in the state except the leader, Senator Simmons. I didn't see him."

"What have you done about contesting delegates?"

"Nothing."

"What have you done about Houston? Do you plan to have headquarters there?"

"I haven't any plans myself," the governor said.

HANDLEY SAYS LABOR NEEDS EDUCATION TO MAINTAIN STANDARDS

Give Luncheon, Program for Men Who Completed Labor College Course

The urgent need for education of the great masses of laboring people, and especially of the children of laboring people, was pointed out by several speakers at the luncheon and program at Trades and Labor hall Wednesday night in honor of the men who completed the work in the first Appleton Labor college.

Appleton Trades and Labor council, which had sponsored the school, sponsored the dinner and program. Approximately 200 workmen and their wives attended the affair. J. F. Handley, Milwaukee, secretary and treasurer of the Wisconsin Federation of Labor, was the chief speaker.

He pointed out that employers spend thousands of dollars to engage educated men to study workers' problems and devise means of helping the employee. To meet arguments put forth by these men, it is necessary for labor to be educated and able to meet the employer on his own ground with his own weapons. Mr. Handley said that we have a fine university in this state which cost millions of dollars and which costs millions more to maintain and yet I don't believe that over 25 percent of the laboring people have ever seen this university—much less thought of sending their children to it.

"When laborers children shall attend that college in great numbers—then we can look forward to the time when we can see our plans put into practice," the speaker said, "because it is the young people who must carry out the things which we can merely propose."

Mr. Handley said labor was responsible for the establishment of the first public school in Massachusetts more than 115 years ago, and he said, labor has been leading the field in the endeavor to have the education laws ever since. He pointed out that it was labor which fought to have the compulsory education laws passed and who fought to keep other interests from changing that law. He showed where it was the workingmen's children who were helped by that law. He also said labor should be credited with securing the Workmen's Compensation act.

A brief mention of the Allen A. Lockout at Kenosha and the use of the injunction in labor disputes was made by the speaker. He alluded to the question of federal judges and declared labor should strive to change the laws so federal judges would be elected for terms of about six years instead of being appointed for life. He said most federal judges were controlled by the corporations.

The Appleton Trades and Labor council, and especially members of the labor college, were praised by Mr. Handley for their splendid work and for establishing a precedent in the city, which, he said, he hoped would be followed in future work.

"In order to secure the human freedom for which labor has worked for years, it is necessary for labor to become educated and to educate its children," said Professor G. W. Campbell, State Normal school, Oshkosh. "For years labor has waited and thought of the things it wanted—but it is not enough to wait. Now it must act and act intelligently and then it will have a chance of securing those things."

Professor Campbell, teacher of the college, was presented with a set of books by members of the school in appreciation of his work.

The laboring class, if there be classes in the United States, is the most gullible of the group," said Professor Campbell. "Laborers swallow anything any politician tells them—and they believe it. It is time we were waking up and finding out who's who and who has authority to tell us things and make us promises."

"Throughout history labor has started great movements only to have them fall—only because labor did not back up its leaders. In a democratic form of government we need intelligent followers as well as intelligent leaders—and it's time labor has educated itself to follow intelligently its leaders."

Mr. Campbell pointed out the need for the labor college and told of work done this year and work he was planning to do at future schools. He said labor colleges were one of the steps toward educating the masses and urged the laborers to support it.

F. E. Bachman, president of the Trades and Labor council, presided at the meeting. He praised the men who had completed the course in the labor college and pledged the support of the council to the college in future.

lathery, but are very much awake, as has been evidenced by the splendid work of the labor college and this fine gathering here tonight," declared Samuel Sigman, secretary of the labor college. Mr. Sigman said it was a duty for laborers to become educated and to attend union meetings regularly to keep informed as to what was going on in their fields. Mr. Sigman urged a greater attendance at the meetings.

Short speeches were given by several members of the college, who told of things they had learned in the course. Following are the names of the men who completed the work: Carl Ahl, R. Duffner, Herbert Dorn, John Ehlke, Adolph Guyer, John Jacobs, Kurt Koletzke, C. T. Maco, Edward Ring, F. M. Schumacher, Carl Smith, Frank Sohr, Martin Zurkowski, Charles Wischow, Edward Reider, W. YOUNGSTERS KICK THAT PLAYGROUND IS LOST TO THEM

Boys Fear Flowerbeds in Reservoir Park Will Spoil Recreation Spot

Appleton children living near the reservoir on W. Prospect and S. Walnut-sts. want to use the reservoir grounds for a playground and have protested the flower beds which are being placed on the grounds by the city water department.

Between 75 and 100 boys stormed the city hall Wednesday afternoon with a petition protesting the flower beds. It follows:

"Gentlemen: Jones park cannot be used because the big men have it most of the time. We used to play all our games on the reservoir and we used to practice there, too, so you can't stop us from using it. Or else you have to get us a new place near there. The cops won't let us play in the road so where are we going to play. These men have no right to plant flowers on our ball park."

F. S. Will you please do what you can to help us."

The boys first stormed the mayor's office but when they found he was out passed their troubles on to the city clerk. He has turned the petition over to the water—commission and some action probably will be taken on it at the regular mid-monthly meeting. It is understood the commission has no desire to deprive younger boys of their playground and will see that the park is kept open for them, but it does object to having the park usurped by young men and older boys who can find other places to play.

WOULD KEEP FRESHMEN FROM COLLEGE ATHLETICS

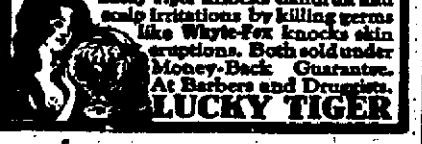

Madison—(AP) Presidents of state teachers colleges in Wisconsin are authorized to prohibit freshmen from participating in intercollegiate athletics, in a resolution adopted by the board of normal regents at its meeting here. Such action is not making mandatory, but is left to the discretion of each president.

Heads of colleges at Milwaukee, Oshkosh, and Stevens Point were instructed by the board to prepare a list of faculty members with whose services they can dispense during the coming year. The budget for instructors' salaries is approximately $20,000 short of the amount required to maintain the staffs at these three schools as at present organized. "The list of instructors who will be 'granted leaves of absence' is to be presented to the board at its meeting in July."

Authority was granted by the regents for the demolition of an old classroom building on the Oshkosh campus which the school has been using while awaiting a new one. The board also voted to require physical examinations of all students matriculating in the teachers' colleges.

Car on Fire

The fire department was called to the J. T. McCann garage, 208 W. College-ave., about 8:30 Thursday morning, when an automobile caught fire from a short circuit. The fire was put out before the firemen arrived.

Mother's Day Sunday May 13th

There's Something She Wants for her Home
Sunday is Mother's Day—a day when a whole nation pays tribute to our mothers. Could a more beautiful sentiment be expressed? While a mother's love looks upon any gift from her children as beautiful, our own love for her makes us want all the more to give her something she truly wants. You may know what this is, but for those who are wondering, may we remind you how much mothers always love their homes, and in furniture you'll find a lasting gift that is certain to be appreciated.

A Coxwell Chair Spells Comfort

Blessings will be said at Sacred Heart church at 7:30, 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning. Masses at St. Mary church will be held at 6 o'clock, 7 o'clock, 8:30 and 9:30 in the morning.

Says Trout Egg Stripping Has Proved Unsuccessful

BY B. A. CLAFIN

Intelligent handling of the situation and prompt action is necessary if we are to save our beautiful trout of the fast waters for those to come after us. Trout are growing scarce. It was an easy matter formerly to hit almost any of our northern streams and take as many hundred trout as we wanted in those days limit was not considered. It was thought perfectly all right to bring back all the fish one could catch.

RIPON EDUCATOR WILL PEDAL WHILE ABROAD

Ripon—(P)—With a bicycle his only means of transportation, Dr. Clifford Moore, head of the department of history at Ripon college, will attempt to visit at least six European countries during eleven summer weeks, he revealed today.

After touring Ireland and Scotland he will cross the English channel, purchase a second bicycle and visit Germany, Belgium, France, and Holland. He has never before travelled in Europe, but intends to go alone. He understands German and French.

Prof. Gertrude Dunham, head of the department of German, is a second Ripon college professor to travel in Europe this summer. She, however, will not use a bicycle.

SEND EXCURSION TO MILWAUKEE SUNDAY

The Chicago and Northwestern railroad is to operate an excursion train to Milwaukee on Sunday, according to W. B. Easing, local agent. The train will leave Green Bay at 6:30 and Appleton at 7:30 in the morning, and will leave Milwaukee for the return trip at 7 o'clock in the evening. Bremen flyers are expected to be in Milwaukee on Sunday.

PROF. TREVER TALKS AT MINISTERS' MEETING

Prof. A. A. Trever of the history department of Lawrence college will give the address at the meeting of the Fox River Valley Ministerial association at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday afternoon. A dinner at 12 o'clock will precede the business meeting. Routine business will be discussed.

At St. Joseph church mass will be held at 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 9:30 and 10:30 in the morning, with a possible change in the early morning masses. At St. Therese church services will be at 6:30, 8 o'clock and 10 o'clock.

just as it was considered proper to shoot wild ducks in the spring.

All that has changed, however, and while there are yet enough trout to afford those who know the game some very fine sport, the fact is that they are fast decreasing. The attempts to keep the supply up to the demand through the medium of hatcheries are all right and bring results in a limited way, but they will never save our wonderful trout. We believe in the establishment of inland hatcheries for the propagation of Speckled and Rainbow trout because the fish are simply confined and are allowed to spawn in a natural way. They are not killed in the operation of stripping unmatured eggs from their bodies in the abortive way that is followed in the handling of the eggs and operations of the lake hatcheries which are supposed to replenish the supply of our Lake trout and Whitefish. It is not working out. I have positive information showing such a small percentage of actual results from this disastrous method that it should be stopped at once. Here is a chance for the Isaak Walton to function.

Our Rainbow trout, whether east or west, all spawn in the spring; in the eastern part of the country early, in February and March; in the western country they spawn later, along into April and even into May in some cases. The Speckled trout spawn in November. For that reason, the law should be changed to stop all fishing in Wisconsin about the end of July. It would mean more fish for the next year. These fish are not heavy producers—mature females carry only about two or three thousand eggs.

The catching of Rainbow trout might well be deferred until about June first and continued through August. Or both of the seasons could be shortened even more. Whatever is done in that way means more fish because less of the spawners would be taken. The Rainbow will survive the Speckled trout owing to his greater ability to thrive in warmer water; and the Brown will survive both of the above species. He is the coming trout, but we all desire to prolong the passing of the original beautiful species as long as possible.

The female Rainbow is not productive until reaching the age of three years. It should be readily seen in view of the above how senseless the present size limit on trout is. The creed of the backers of this vicious law is, save the "11" fish under seven inches and kill the spawners, the reproducers, because they are over seven inches. And the little fish under seven inches are not saved. On the contrary, they are killed when once hooked, at least ninety percent.

DETERMINE INTEREST IN AIR MAIL ROUTES

Milwaukee Association of Commerce Committee Calls Meeting for May 21

A meeting of aviation enthusiasts in Wisconsin and Upper Michigan cities has been called for May 21 to find if there is enough interest in air mail routes to warrant asking the government to advertise for bids.

A previous meeting, in April was well attended by representatives from more than a dozen cities through which proposed routes would run. Both meetings have been called by the air service committee of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce.

The cities concerned are: Escanaba, Mich.; Appleton, Marinette, Manitowish, West Bend, Menominee, Mich.; Kohler, Menasha, Green Bay, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan Falls, Sheboygan, Chippewa Falls, Eau Claire, Duluth, Minn.; Port Washington, Oshkosh, De Pere, Superior, Neenah, Two Rivers, Plymouth, Wausau.

REPORT ON ACTIVITIES AT CIVIC COUNCIL MEET

The regular May meeting of the Civic Council will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening May 14. It will be the first meeting under new officers elected at the April session of the council. H. H. Heible, principal of the high school, is the new president and Mrs. L. C. Steeper, secretary. Activity reports will be made at the meeting.

GOITRE NOT A DISEASE

Milwaukee Doctor Makes Remarkable Discovery

Milwaukee, Wis. — It has been brought to light by scientific research that goitre is not a disease and is not to be treated as such. Dr. A. A. Rock, Dept. 680 Box 737, Milwaukee, Wis., a prominent goitre specialist for over 24 years, has perfected a different method of treatment for his patients that has proved remarkably successful. This same method is now being used for a home treatment of goitre cases all over the country with astonishing results. The doctor states that goitre is a condition which grows worse with neglect and recommends immediate attention no matter how small the growth may appear. He strongly opposes needless operations. Dr. Rock is the author of a book that tells in a simple way about treating goitre at home. He has published this book at his own expense and will send a copy free to anyone interested. Write him today.

NEWS OF NEENAH AND MENASHA

SOCIETY

MAYOR SUGGESTS
UNOFFICIAL CIVIC
BODY FOR MENASHA

Expect Alderman Will Approve Suggestion for Public Committee

Menasha—Steps are to be taken at once for the organization of a committee of 15 or 18 business men representing the common council and local service clubs to handle all civic questions. The matter was suggested Wednesday by Mayor Walter E. Held in connection with proposed new building to replace the Landgraf hotel and met with such approval that in all probability he will be asked to name those who will represent the common council at the immediately meeting next Tuesday night. The service clubs will take the matter up at their next meetings. The city is without a body of this kind at present and feels the need of it where civic matters come up for consideration.

SEEK FUNDS TO PAY
EXPENSES OF BAND

Menasha—To help defray expenses of transportation and meals, members of Menasha high school band who will attend the annual state band tournament at Waupun Saturday, May 19, are selling booster badges which will admit the wearer to all events and entertainments. The attractions include a ball game, trips through the state prison, music, dancing and motor races. The board of education is helping to defray some of the expenses. The Menasha musicians will come in competition with the bands of Ripon, Berlin, Princeton, Waubesa, Sun Prairie, Jefferson, Girls Tech, Neenah, Lincoln, Galesville, Two Rivers, Seymour, South Milwaukee, Stevens Point, Cudahy, East Troy, Appleton, Milwaukee, Girls Vocational school, Waterloo, Lake Mills, Shorewood and Reedsburg.

MENASHA PUT ON SCHOOL
ACCREDITED LIST AGAIN

Menasha—Menasha high school has been placed on the approved list of schools in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, according to a bulletin received Wednesday. The notice also certifies that this secondary school has been continuously recognized by the association since 1908.

DRAFT SCHEDULE FOR BASKETBALL SEASON

Menasha—The Northeastern Wisconsin Intercollegiate conference will hold a meeting at Green Bay Friday evening to draft basketball schedules for the coming year. Menasha high school will be represented by Superintendent J. E. Klotzki and Coach N. Calder.

FIFE AND DRUM CORPS
GETS NEW INSTRUMENTS

Menasha—The fife, drum and bugle corps of the Henry J. Lenz post of the American legion has received its new instruments and is using them. There are 24 pieces which will be increased to 40, the full strength of the corps. Measurements for new uniforms will be taken next week. At one time the corps expected to make its first appearance on Memorial day, but is now doubtful if the uniforms will be here in time. Theodore Steinmann, who has been ill in a Green Bay hospital, expects to meet with the musicians for practice Friday evening.

APRIL BIRTHS LEAD
DEATHS, MARRIAGES

Menasha—The number of births in Menasha during April doubled the number of marriages and was six times the number of deaths, according to the monthly report of Dr. W. P. McGrath, health officer. There were 2 deaths, six marriages and 12 births.

YOUTH UNHURT WHEN THROWN FROM AUTO

Menasha—A Ladysmith youth was thrown from a car driven by his father but escaped with slight injuries Tuesday evening when their car crashed into a bus at the south end of the Tarry-st bridge. The collision occurred after the bus had been forced to stop quickly to avoid hitting another car.

YOUTH NEAR DEATH
AFTER JUMPING ON
SHARP STICK IN PLAY

Point Pierces Intestines—Life Probably Saved by Playmate

Neenah—Clarence Johnson, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Johnson, 15, Columbia-ave, is at Theda Clark hospital in a serious condition, with injuries suffered Wednesday afternoon when he jumped on a sharp pointed stick while at play with a group of boys in the yard in the rear of the S. F. Shattuck home. The lad, when found, by his playmates, was in a semi-conscious condition due to the loss of blood. Much credit is due James Shattuck, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Shattuck, who lost no time in summoning physicians and the city ambulance to convey his playmate to the hospital. The sick pierced the boys intestines for several inches. Little hopes were held Wednesday evening at the hospital for his recovery but Thursday his condition was somewhat improved.

LOSES THUMB
Neenah—Otto Olman injured a thumb at the Burstein plant Thursday morning. It was amputated at Theda Clark hospital.

SPEECHES AND MUSIC
AT FIRST BALL GAME

Neenah—Arrangements are under way for a program Sunday afternoon in honor of the first home game to be played at Recreation park, Menasha, by the Neenah-Menasha team of the Fox River Valley league. The opposing team will be Fond du Lac. The high school band will play followed by short speeches by the mayors of the two cities and others. Several changes will be made in the team lineup for this game, following the last Sunday game when several players did not show up to expectations of Manager Arthur Larsen. The twin city battery will be Zenefski and Slomski and Schram and Schram for Fond du Lac.

NO INCREASED PAY FOR POLICE, FIREMEN YET

Neenah—The board of police and fire commissioners and the city council met Wednesday evening to discuss salaries of police and firemen but came to no decision other than to revise rules governing such payments, which were adopted in 1910. Following the rules revision, it is possible some changes in the salaries of the police and firemen will be recommended to the council.

The Wednesday meeting was a lengthy one as all phases of the work and salaries now received and salaries recommended were discussed.

ANSORGE NAMED
MUNICIPAL JUDGE
AT WINNECONNE

Takes Place of R. Molzow, Neenah, Who Failed to Qualify After Election

Madison—(AP)—The secretary of state's office Tuesday placed on record the appointment, by Governor Zimmerman, of Otto A. Ansoerge, of Winneconne, as municipal judge for Winneconne-co. He succeeds R. Molzow, who was elected to the bench in the April 3 election, but failed to qualify.

Mr. Ansoerge will serve, under the appointment, a term ending in May 1932.

Following his election Mr. Molzow said he had not sought the office and would not serve. It was hoped by Neenah, citizens, who were responsible for his election, that their action might result in bringing the court to their city from Winneconne.

NEENAH
PERSONALS

Neenah—Dr. C. C. Del Marcello of Green Bay, who has been visiting twin city relatives, left Wednesday for Milwaukee to attend the ball games.

S. D. Baird of Green Bay, is visiting Thomas Baird for a few days. Dr. and Mrs. Arnold, Jackson, of the Jackson clinic at Madison, are spending a few days at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George M. Pratt.

Dr. H. A. Briggs visited at the Green Bay academy Wednesday. Clarence Hooper, Chicago, is spending a few days here.

Mrs. Gertrude Krautkramer is spending the weekend with relatives in Chicago. C. W. Sawyer has purchased the William Goltz resident property on Church-st and will move there as soon as Mr. and Mrs. Goltz leave for the west.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Knelster of Clintonville, and Mr. and Mrs. George E. Knelster of Rhinelander, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Elwers. Dr. Knelster is attending the dentists' convention.

A daughter was born Wednesday at Theda Clark hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Everett Felton.

Jacob Fuhs of Marion, is at Theda Clark hospital for treatment.

TWIN CITY DEATHS

ELI DEFNET

Neenah—Eli Defnet, 65, a resident of Neenah since 1890, died at 3 o'clock Thursday morning at his home on E. Forest-ave where he had been ill for the last two years. He was born in Kewau-nawee where he spent his youth. After arriving here he was employed in the Sherry Lumber company office and later he became a partner with H. Jensen in the coal and wood business. This afterwards was known as the Defnet and Jager-son company. He was married to Miss Bertha Krus of Appleton, who died several years ago. Two children were born, Mrs. Ralph Thomas of Manitowoc, and Kenneth Defnet of Chicago. Mr. Defnet later was married to Mrs. Lina Uvas. He was a member of Kane Masonic lodge, Equitable fraternal union, the Modern Woodmen. The funeral will be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at the home. The services will be conducted by Kane Lodge, assisted by the Rev. D. C. Jones. Burial will be at Oak Hill cemetery.

Health Talks

All of this appears to be a sincere effort to get scholarship back into first place in the student's ambitions and drop football and other inconsequentials down a peg. Alumni instead of sending football stars to alma mater on home town scholarships will be sending—wonder of wonders—scholars instead. Wise frosh will put in their first campus appearance in hot-rimmed glasses instead of high school varsity sweaters. Every class will be "skill practice" to develop material for the "cramming team" and every study

QUESTION MEANING OF ROOM ASSIGNMENT

Controversy of Land Standing
Hinges on Land Commission's Action

Madison—(AP)—Did the legislature assign the state land commission to a designated office space when it approved plans for the present capitol building?

That question will be argued in Dane circuit court May 24 when the attorney general makes a motion for a rehearing of the capitol office quarters controversy. When Judge A. G. Zimmerman denied the attorney general's petition for a writ of mandamus to compel the housing committee to restore the land commission to the room from which it was ousted, he reserved the right to reopen the case if evidence were produced to show that the commission was assigned to its quarters by the legislature.

The attorney general will attempt to show that it was the legislative intent to give the commission permanent residence in its office on the ground floor of the capitol.

Some months ago, A. D. Campbell, chief clerk of the land body, found himself, his furniture and his office force moved at 9 o'clock in the morning out of the commodious room he had been occupying into a small office adjoining the main lobby. He was made up of instructions from Gov. Fred R. Zimmerman, C. B. Ballard, superintendent of public property, and C. A. Halbert, state chief engineer, who make up the capitol housing committee.

Mr. Ballard said Mr. Campbell was moved because he objected to sharing his office with O. A. Stolen, state humane agent.

The land commission is composed of John W. Reynolds, attorney general, Theodore Dammann, secretary of state, and Solomon Levitan, state treasurer.

On the day the change was made, Mr. Levitan was the only member of the commission in the city. A week or so later, Mr. Reynolds filed petition for writ of mandamus to compel the housing committee to restore the commission to its former office. After argument of the case, the court denied the petition.

The petition contained diagram and explanation of the inability of the land office force to perform their work properly in the inadequate quarters to which it was moved.

The appeal hinges on the question of whether the legislature designated the former office for the use of the commission, and whether the housing

DENY AUTHORITY TO EMPLOY EXTRA HELP

No preparations have been made by Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, county treasurer, for collection of income taxes from June to July 1. Under the new state income tax law, collections are made by the county treasurer instead of city, village and town treasurers. Miss Ziegenhagen said she would need additional office help during the collection period and that the county board finance committee was to make arrangements for it. William Beck, Seymour, supervisor and chairman of the finance committee, said his committee had nothing to do with making the arrangements for additional help but that Miss Ziegenhagen had full charge.

SEEK SUPPORT FOR BROWNE ROAD BILL

Would Divert Money Received from France to Helping Build Highways

A drive covering the entire mid-west is being made by the Automobile Club of Illinois to gain support for the Browne bill, now in congress, which would divert money received from France in payment for surplus road materials and machinery, left over after the World War, to road building in the United States.

The bill, introduced by Congressman Browne of Wisconsin, provides that the money, amounting to more than $40 million dollars, be divided among states which have gone ahead with federal road building but have received no money from the government. In addition the act is not intended to repeal any provision of the Federal Aid Road Act unless such provision conflicts with the new bill.

A provision making a more equal division of the proposed road building program has been made since the bill was first introduced and the automobile club has adopted the slogan "A Paved United States in Our Day."

DUTY FREE ARTICLES FOR FARMER SOUGHT

Senator Blaine's Rider to Tax Reduction Bill Is Now Before Upper House

BY REP. GEO. J. SCHNEIDER
Washington—Duty-free admission of articles used on the farm in return for the export of similar amounts of farm products was proposed by Senator Blaine on May 3. In his farm relief tariff rider to the tax reduction bill now before the upper house.

This measure, the Wisconsin Senator said, would result in lower prices on almost all dutiable articles used on the farm as well as by other consumers. Likewise, he argued, the compulsory export of farm products would reduce the surplus in the United States and thereby bring about an increase in farm prices. Senator Blaine described his plan as having a similar effect as the tariff debenture farm relief plan supported by the National Grange, but stated that it was simpler in operation and would require no new machinery.

Duty-free importation would be limited to $5,000 worth of products on any one important ship, composed of a specified list of articles used largely by farmers, including steel and iron products. Importers under this plan would have to pledge themselves to buy and export within 30 days $5,000 worth of raw or processed farm products, posting bond to cover duty in case they fail to do this.

COOLIDGE DISSATISFIED
In spite of the removal of several objectionable features from the McNary-Haugen Farm Relief bill which passed the House on May 3, it is said that President Coolidge fears the main objections still exist.

According to an official statement on May 4, the report of the Conference Committee on Flood Control does not indicate that much has been done to meet the views of the president regarding this bill. The chief executive had expected that the members of congress who were conferring on this measure would give him an opportunity to consult with them. However they hurried their conference to an end without getting his views or seeing whether their report might meet with his approval.

Therefore it is thought improbable that either of these important measures will secure the President's endorsement as yet.

OFFER $100 REWARD FOR ARREST OF EMBEZZLER

A reward of $100 has been offered for the arrest of John Kerins, 36, wanted at Toledo, Ohio, for embezzling $18,000, according to word received by police here Wednesday. Kerins was thought to be traveling north to either Wisconsin or Michigan. He is about five feet, six inches tall and weighs 155 pounds. He has dark brown hair and brown eyes.

GETS BUILDING PERMIT AFTER APPEAL TO BOARD

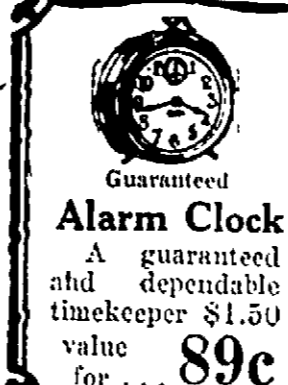

A building permit was issued Wednesday morning to Paolo Frige, 544 N. Appleton-st., by John N. Weiland, building inspector. Mr. Frige plans to build an addition to his store at a cost of $1,200.

The order for the building permit was made by the zoning board of appeals following a meeting Monday morning to consider the request. Originally the building inspector refused the permit on the grounds that the zoning ordinance prohibited an addition to a business block located in the residential district. The board decided that the Frige property could be made an exception because it was only a half block from a railway and there now are several commercial buildings in the block.

recently several members of congress have appeared on the floor of the House in an intoxicated condition, and that these men were known as supporters of dry measures. Hitherto no steps have been taken against such lapses, but, according to the "News" editorial, such hypocrisy will be given the widest publicity whenever detected.

Books Are
The Finest Treasures

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
THE long hall was of white marble, tapestry-lung, and contained priceless works of art. The console of the pipe-organ was vacant, yet as we entered, "The Spring Song" was echoing through the house. It was the first time I had had an opportunity to escape an acquaintance with an electrically-run organ.

The high-ceilinged drawing-room was beyond description; so were the are-galler, the ball-room, the dining-room, study and library. It seemed as though all the treasures of the earth must be there—rugs, pictures, marbles, bronzes, antiques, and draperies, the cream of the world's marts.

The library was particularly intriguing. Rare editions, first editions, original manuscripts, everything that bespeaks the book-lover.

Having a moment's respite, I went in, curled up on an antique sofa and opened a rare old volume of Milton. But it was difficult to concentrate. When one wishes to smell a single rose he must not go into a conservatory.

I began to scan the volumes on the low shelf near me. There were some copies of Goethe, an old set of Shakespeare, a large and small set of Balzac, and then an odd assortment that looked so old and well-thumbed I leaned over for closer inspection. What did I see? Uncle Wiggly, several of him, indeed, two of the Oz books, Mother Goose, and some of Beatrix Potter's tiny masterpieces. You remember, of course.

As we left some of the guests were discussing the things they had admired the most. "And what about you?" said one turning to me. "Why," said I promptly, "I saw some old books that rather took my eye. I think I liked them best of all."

SISTERHOOD OF
WOMEN SEEN IN CURRENT YEAR

PEOPLE talk often of the brotherhood of man. It seems to me that 1928 sees a genuine sisterhood of woman," says Mrs. Oliver Harriman, prominent New York social leader and philanthropist.

For seven years Mrs. Harriman has been chairman of the Exposition of Women's Arts and Industries, held each fall and knows women in all walks of life.

"There is no longer any drastic line of cleavage between the business and professional woman and the home and the club woman," she observes. "In the American life, all women had identical interests—the home, family and church. Then some women stepped out of the home into industry and the contrast between them and the home women was marked.

"Now the women both outside and inside the home have a deep bond of sympathy. Women's interests in general are broadening. The business and professional woman nowadays is interested in domesticity and the home woman gets out into charity and club work. All have the same serious interest in their vocations and avocations. They are learning how to join forces on certain enterprises, thereby building up a genuine sisterhood of women."

Round, Square And V Shaped Necks
Vie With Collars, Ruffles And Capes

BY BETSY SCHUYLER

New York—Spring fashion battles were fought out on the waistline and neckline. But the line of battle seems to shift. It's the neckline now that is the point of struggle. Square necks vie with round ones, V's with V-necks, and so on.

There's tremendous competition between different kinds of necklines. Last summer much fuss was made over this very thing. But remember that last summer no neck was much of a neck that boasted a collar. And when pared down to collarless necklines there was no such chance for individuality after all.

Now there are collars that tie, button, lace or buckle in every conceivable way; collarless necklines employing bows, buttons, ruffles, ruchings and fur; even necklines that boast huge capes in the rear and on top a piping around the front. The variety of styles and the numbers of gadgets that dress up the neck this summer is simply beyond classification.

THREE LITTLE DEBS

Take three little debs whom I saw sitting in a row recently. Alida Davis had one of those wide-at-the-shoulders but shallow front and back squarish necks on her navy blue moroccan frock. Then a silly little sailor's knot of silk gave quite a distinctive touch on one side.

Betty Halsey's tan-tweed frock had a modernistic closing that turned many angles and gave a pointed chic to the neck. It had a self-made bow touching one or two of the points.

Virginia Raeburn had one of those frilly, feminine looking frocks—a little black and white cherry on a deep red background trimmed with white accordion pleated frills. The frill of crepe de chine fluttered around the back of the neck and all the way down the tuxedo front. Artfully smart. She had some red enameled modernistic jewelry on with it.

Looking at her cheered me up so I decided that once in every so often folks should feel a social obligation to wear red, for its effect on the world at large.

Florence Kip Clark uses an unusual neck for a chiffon blouse in two shades of lavender. It is high on one side and the other jogs down to a pointed low neck. Incidentally I saw almost the same kind of a neck on a charming dinner gown of black lace that Mrs. James Le Roy Banks, Jr., wore. It must take its inspiration from that off-the-shoulder manner smart women have of wearing their fur scarfs.

The annual bridal procession has gotten a good start lately. Could any one have made a lovelier and more stately bride than Gwendolyn Talbot, now Mrs. Harris Baldwin Fisher, Jr.? Her white gown had old family lace that Mrs. James Le Roy Banks, Jr., wore. It must take its inspiration from that off-the-shoulder manner smart women have of wearing their fur scarfs.

The annual bridal procession has gotten a good start lately. Could any one have made a lovelier and more stately bride than Gwendolyn Talbot, now Mrs. Harris Baldwin Fisher, Jr.? Her white gown had old family lace that Mrs. James Le Roy Banks, Jr., wore. It must take its inspiration from that off-the-shoulder manner smart women have of wearing their fur scarfs.

SUMMERY LACE FROCKS

Her wedding procession was unusually summery-looking, for all her six bridesmaids and her maid of honor, her younger sister, Evelyn, wore beige silk lace frocks with cape backs and tiered skirts. Bright green slippers and picture hats gave a nice touch to the bridal procession. Evelyn wore brown, by contrast, and incidentally to prove brown's added dignity this year, when it's considered a proper color for such formal wear as bridal parties!

Brown was the color Mrs. Vincent Astor chose for her velveteen suit which she wore to a bridge party at the Ritz last week. Her tan blouse was horizontally stitched in brown and a snug turban of fine brown straw had a carnelian and diamond ornament.

FORMALLY FEMINE

As a matter of fact, Mrs. John J. Kuhn, at lunch at Pierre's, wore a brown and cream, rather formal, lace and chiffon gown the other day. The long, fitted sleeves had subtle inserts of pleated lace. Quite the most delicately and femininely lovely gown I've seen for some time.

The flair for colorful accessories is on the up and up. Fannie Hurst wore two huge scarlet bracelets on one wrist and three gold ones set in colorful stones on the other, when serving tea at her studio apartment last Thursday.

FANCY HEELS

While plain silk net hosiery or plain chiffon are most popular, fancy heels are reappearing this summer. A black-white checker-board design on white is startling.

MARYE
"MOM"
Their Letters
BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Dear Marye:

It's a good thing you found out that some men do misjudge the conduct of girls who claim the freedom of doing whatever you like. Because you could have made the discovery under no less innocent circumstances.

To me, of course, there would be nothing surprising in anything a man might say to a girl he had "picked up," as the expression goes. Introductions are necessary—not because they break the ice between strangers but as a safeguard against the sort of thing they happened with your Senor Alvarado's friend.

You see, Marye, there are two kinds of people. No matter how you try to level the two groups there remain those whom other people respect and those whom they do not. And there are men who do not respect a girl they can meet unconventionally.

The introduction is simply the shield of the girl who wants to be respected. Perhaps Senor Alvarado is a man of keener perceptions than is his friend. Or he may be more experienced. I won't say that a man of the world would fail to realize that you and Florence are just two high-flying little smart-alecks. You may trust such men to take better care of you than you know how to take care of yourselves, but you can't eliminate the less discriminating man. He is certain to find out for himself.

Any person or animal who kicks over the traces of restraint, whether of convention or harness, is wild. Yes, I admit that conventions are restraining, but they help to restrain anyone from jumping to wrong conclusions about you just as much as they restrain you from pleasure. You may say aside if you wish, but you can't see why I know of a happiness didn't enjoy her afternoon in spite of having turned her back on conventions. The new freedom went sour, didn't it?

I don't see why you didn't leave when things turned out unpleasantly. Sometimes I know a little. Marye, I know it takes a lot to disturb the self-miss of today, but you must remember that one gets into bad habits by easy stages. Illusions and ideals are not preserved by constant association with their enemies.

Some day I know you will see that being shockproof, as many of you are, is an ugly state to be in.

With all my love,
MOM.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Grape fruit sections, cereal, cream hashed liver and bacon, whole wheat pop-over, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Baked macaroni and meat, pear salad, graham bread, cookies, milk tea.

DINNER—Stuffed breast of veal, baked cabbage and tomato, head lettuce, cheese pie, milk, coffee. The luncheon dish of macaroni and meat is worth keeping in mind for a company "flat" luncheon. Served with buttered asparagus or carrots and a salad the "plate" is well balanced and nourishing as well as attractive.

BAKED MACARONI AND MEAT
One cup macaroni broken into inch lengths, 4 eggs, 1 cup cream, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup cold diced chicken or veal, 1/2 cup finely diced cold ham, 4 tablespoons grated cheese.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and blanch. Beat yolks of eggs until thick and lemon colored. Add cream and fold in white of 2 eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Season with salt and pepper and add macaroni. Add meat, ham and cheese and turn into a well-buttered baking dish. Bake forty minutes in a moderate oven. When firm to the touch the concoction is done. Serve at once.

THE TINYMITES

By Hal Cochran

READ THE STORY. THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

THE funny band played long and loud and quite amused the little crowd. Said Clowny, "Say, who trained them? They are doing very well." A Black-Eyed Susan smiled reply. "Who trained them? Mercy me, 'twas I! I've made them practice day and night, as you can likely tell."

"At first 'twas rather hard, but then they'd play things over and over again. And after while they kept good time and sounded very sweet. You Tiniest are the first to hear them play, except the flowers 'round here. And now we flowers will dance for you, if you'll just have a seat."

The Tiniest scampered, with a bound and sat together on the ground. "Go ahead," yelled Scouty, "we're as anxious as can be. We know that it will be real good. We'll clap our hands, just as we should." No wonder they were tickled over what they were going to see.

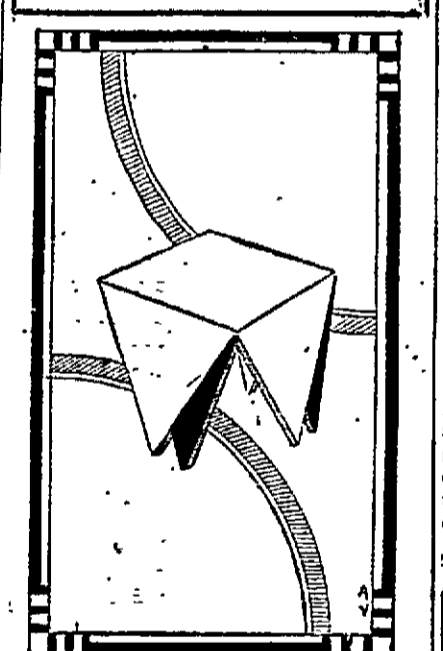

"Come forth, you flowers," a daisy cried, "and stand together by my side. Do only what I tell you and we'll get along all right. I want to show what We can do. We'll dance a little step that's new." And as the flowers gathered 'round, it was a pretty sight. And then the daisy waved one hand and loudly cried, "Strike up the band!" Again the music started and the air seemed full of pep. The flowers all watched the daisy's lead and then they danced with lots of speed. 'Twas really very clever how each one kept right in step.

Of course this dance was shortly done and Copy shouted, "That was fun. Please do another one for us and maybe we'll join in. We cannot dance as well as you and so whatever we may do, we hope you will not laugh at us." This made the flowers all grin.

Household Hints

STAINED-FLOOR POLISH
The following mixture is fine for polishing floors: a half pint of linseed oil, same turpentine and one pint both vinegar and methylated spirit.

PASTRY CARE
Have care where you stand pastry just out of the oven. A cold or draughty place often condenses the steam and makes it heavy.

SAGGING SEATS
Cane seats can be rejuvenated by scrubbing thoroughly with hot soap suds, rinsing with lemon juice and drying, upside down.

DRESSED-UP CLOSETS
Why not dress up your closets in spring? A light paint, either buff, pale green or pink is good. Paint your hangers too. And cretonne slipper, clothes and hat bags can be made very inexpensively.

Sports And Business At Meeting Here

THE program for the De Molay conclave here on Saturday, which will be attended by De Molay boys from the Fox river valley will include sports, general discussion, a luncheon and dinner and exemplification of the DeMolay and majority degrees.

Registration will continue throughout the morning and baseball will start at 9:30. The luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock by the Fidelity chapter, Order of Eastern Star, and will be followed by the general meeting at 1:30, at which W. E. Smith will preside. The Rev. Virgil Scott will give the invocation and Mayor Albert C. Rule the address of welcome. Theodore Cardiff of Oshkosh will respond. What the Chapters want the District to do for them will be discussed by Clifford Kemp of Kaukauna and Maurice Lewis of Appleton. Charles R. Yule of Oshkosh, district deputy for the Fox River valley will talk on "What the District can do for the Chapters," and a summary will be given by W. D. Isham, a member of the general committee.

Immediately after the banquet at 6 o'clock DeMolay members, advisors and Masons, the ceremonial of visitation for Mr. Isham will be held. The Oshkosh drill team will present a drill and the DeMolay degree will be put on by the John F. Rose chapter, Order of DeMolay of this city. The majority service, which will be given for the first time in Appleton, will be put on by the Milwaukee past master councilor. The summary will be given by Mr. Isham.

LODGE NEWS

An open card party will be given Wednesday evening, May 23, by Women's Catholic Order of Foresters. It was decided at a meeting Wednesday night at Catholic home. Mrs. M. Peters will be in charge of the party. Bridge and schafkopf followed the business session and prizes at bridge were won by Mrs. Robert Matz and Mrs. Peter Brown. Mrs. Frank Slatery and Mrs. Joseph Schreiter won the prizes at schafkopf.

A special meeting of John F. Rose chapter, Order of DeMolay will be held at 7:30 Friday night. The meeting has been called for the purpose of making final plans for the conclave on Saturday and for drill.

A special meeting of Knights of Columbus has been called for 7:30 Thursday evening at Catholic home. A new set of by-laws will be acted on and applications for membership will be read.

More than fifty women and girls took advantage of the Wednesday swimming classes at the Y. M. C. A., according to Miss Agnes Vanneman, assistant director of the Appleton Women's club. Water polo was played by the evening class.

PARTIES

Three Appleton persons attended the banquet and musicale given at the Sawyer Foundation at Oshkosh Wednesday night by the Gabe Bouck circle of the Ladies of the Grand Army of Republic. They were E. H. Wilder, Mrs. E. S. Miller, department senior vice of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, and Mrs. A. F. Henningson. Mr. McCallum of Neenah also attended the banquet at which all patriotic organizations in Oshkosh were guests.

Mrs. C. F. Jenkins, Bellaire-ent, entertained ten friends Wednesday in honor of her anniversary. Schafkopf was played. Mrs. Ida Fischer and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Fischer of New London were out-of-town guests.

A surprise party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Corrigan of Milwaukee on April 23 at the home of Mrs. Corrigan's mother, Mrs. Carl Stolt, town of Center. A dinner was served at noon to 30 relatives and friends of the couple. The table was decorated with silver streamers and flowers and the decoration scheme was carried out in the rooms of the home. Games and music provided amusement for the guests Mrs. Corrigan formerly was Miss Ida Stolt.

CARD PARTIES

Mrs. J. T. McCann will be chairman of a series of open card parties given for the Women of St. Mary parish at 2:30 Friday afternoon at Columbia hall, for the Columbia hall benefit. Bridge and schafkopf will be played.

A bridge party will be given at 2:30 Thursday afternoon, May 17, at Masonic temple for all women affiliated with the Masonic order. Mrs. E. F. Furstenberg is chairman of the party and will be assisted by Mrs. E. B. Morse and Mrs. E. C. Weiteman.

ENGAGEMENTS

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth DeRemus, daughter of Mrs. Josephine Pilen DeRemus of Charlotte, N. C., to Elmer Albert Hilker, son of Mrs. and Mr. William Hilker of this city was made by Mrs. DeRemus recently. The wedding will take place early in June at the home of the bride elect's parents, Meyer Park. Mr. Hilker is an attorney at Charlotte.

TUESDAY STUDY CLUB HAS MAY POLE AT DINNER

A May party was given by the Tuesday Study club at the annual banquet Wednesday night in the French room of the Conway hotel. The tables for the 18 members were arranged in a square with a maypole in the middle of the square. Colored streamers went to each place at the tables.

Pink and green were the predominant colors and the flowers were roses, snapdragons and sweet peas. Geranium blossoms were the favors. Miss Helen Schmidt presided at the dinner and toasts were given by all members. Mrs. Merle Bro, president of the club, was elected the May queen. The party was concluded with the winding and unwinding of the maypole.

Members of the committee in charge of the banquet were Miss Helen Schmidt, Mrs. H. J. Searles and Miss Mary Petersen. The next meeting will be a 1:30 luncheon at the home of Mrs. H. B. Petersen at Clintonville on Wednesday, May 23.

CLUB MEETINGS

The Theta alumnae club will meet at 6 o'clock Monday evening May 21, at the home of Mrs. Ronald Rogers, Neenah. The meeting was to have been held on Monday evening, May 14.

A play was given at the meeting of the Franklin Mothers club Wednesday afternoon by girls from the Wisconsin Michigan Power company, Miss Mable Kranzsch, Miss Agnes Kuborn and Miss Marie Lewandowski. "Let's Get Married" was the title of the play. About 35 members attended the meeting at which Mrs. Gustave Kranzsch, Mrs. H. M. Esham and Mrs. Edward Dreier were the hostesses and Mrs. Kranzsch and Mrs. Grover Smith were members of the entertainment committee.

Officers for the coming club year were elected at the meeting of the Fortnightly club Wednesday at a 1 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. Karl M. Haugen, E. Nawada-st. They were Mrs. Wilmer Schlafer, president; Mrs. E. B. Morse, vice president; Mrs. Henry Boon, secretary; Mrs. A. P. Kietzien, treasurer. About 20 members were present at the luncheon. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Henry Boon, Mrs. A. F. Kietzien and Mrs. F. G. Moyle. Mrs. R. Carncross and Mrs. J. H. Farley, honorary members, were guests of the club.

Mrs. W. H. Killen was elected president of the Wednesday club Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the club at the home of Mrs. George Banta, Jr., Park-ave, Menasha. Mrs. John Stevens was elected vice president and Mrs. R. S. Powell, secretary. Treasurer, about 20 members attended the meeting at which Mrs. Rush Winslow gave a review of the book, "Mary Barton" by Mrs. Gaskell.

Seventh Annual Musical Festival Opens Sunday

THE Music festival on Sunday and Monday will be the seventh annual musical event sponsored by the Appleton Music Festival association.

Carl J. Waterman will be the musical director of the festival and Henri Verbruggen, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, will be the orchestral conductor. The Minneapolis Symphony again will be featured and the Schola Cantorum of Lawrence college, composed of 115 voices, will sing.

The first concert will be the presentation of the oratorio "Elijah" by Mendelssohn. The soloist, all outstanding artists, will be Miss Jeanette Vreeland, soprano; Miss Helen Mueller contralto; Oscar Heather, tenor; Barre Hill, baritone. Mrs. Marion Hutchison McCreeedy will return from Chicago to sing the part of the Youth in the oratorio which will be given by the Schola Cantorum and the Symphony.

Miss Gladys Brainard, pianist, and Barre Hill will be the soloists with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra on Monday afternoon when it presents the second concert of the festival. Miss Jeannette Vreeland will be the soloist Monday evening with the orchestra when it plays the concluding concert.

During the twenty five years of its life, the orchestra has given annually sixty concerts in the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul and nearly one hundred on its tours which comprise about ten weeks of traveling. It has appeared from coast to coast and from Canada to the Gulf. A rigid standard of excellence and an aim as high as the highest had been adhered to for the quarter of a century the orchestra has been appearing.

Officers of the music association sponsoring the festival are Stephen Rosbush, president; Dr. Charles Reineck, treasurer; Carl J. Waterman, musical director; Carl S. McKee, business manager.

MOOSE WOMEN PICK DELEGATES TO CONVENTION

Mrs. Edward Ward and Mrs. Wilbur Hauert were elected delegates to the state convention of Women of Mooseheart Legion in June at Kenosha at a meeting of the local lodge Wednesday night at Moose temple. It was decided to attend the mothers day services at Trinity English Lutheran church on Sunday and the members will meet at 10 o'clock Sunday morning at Moose temple and go to the church in a body. Visiting day will be on May 15 with Mrs. Anita Blake chairman of the party. Mrs. Louis Lohman will be in charge of the food sale on May 19. A report of the Tuesday afternoon card party was given and plans were made to have a drill practice every Friday night.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

The regular monthly meeting of the Brotherhood of Trinity English Lutheran church was held Wednesday evening at the church. Dart baseball was played after the business meeting. Hosts were Leslie Krabbe and Alvin Krabbe.

GIRLS REWARD ATHLETES WITH DINNER AT HOTEL

When the knights of old killed a few dragons, heathens, and foreign kings for the honor of their country and their fair ladies, the latter would give them knots of their ribbons, or perhaps a sweet smile, as a reward. But when six athletes brought honor upon the name of Delta Gamma sorority, of Lawrence college, the co-eds rewarded the men with something much more substantial.

About a week ago Lawrence runners divided into teams for the track meet and team took the name of the campus sororities. The team that fought under the name of Delta Gamma won, so the girls whose society was honored gave a banquet at the Northern Hotel for the boys Wednesday night. Coach A. C. Denney was a guest of honor. The six young men who were thus feted by the thirty Delta Gammars are: Donald And Douglas Hyde, Bob Rasmussen, Charles Wolf and Frank Jesse.

"Coffee Is Still Cheap"

Buy the best is good policy. It is the cheapest in the end. Without enjoyment and satisfaction there is no real economy.

Brew at one time as many cups of Coffee as are actually required for your family. Like the clean plate of conservation days, the clean Coffee cup will eventually mean reduction in your Coffee cost without reducing quality, or the quantity you actually drink.

Economize if you wish by eliminating waste. Best quality, less wasting, means greater Coffee enjoyment at less cost.

The cost of Coffee for your home is only 1 1/2 c per cup. Surely that is very little to pay for the satisfaction and enjoyment which only good Coffee can give.

Sherman House Coffee

will give more cups to the pound, and a real cup of Coffee. Figuring the cost Per Cup, it is the Cheapest Coffee to buy.

TOWNSNEW LONDON BERRY
GROWERS ORGANIZE AND NAME OFFICERS

Meeting Is Well Attended by Farmers from Outagamie and Waupaca-00s

Special to Post-Crescent.
New London—By laws were adopted and officers elected for the New London Berry Growers' association at an organization meeting here Wednesday night. Berry growers from all parts of Outagamie and Waupaca-00s were present.

Officers elected were Curtis Rogers, president; Elwood Brewer, vice president; Sebastian Yagbar, secretary and treasurer. Arthur Cousins was chairman of the meeting.

New members taken in were Harry Sanborn, Hortonville; Otto Nook and M. Smith, Seymour; and Mr. Edmister, Weyauwega.
It was decided to rent an old malt house here as a distributing point and members of the association will bring their products there for sorting and marketing. A man well versed in this line of work is needed, and it is proposed to employ a Sturgeon Bay resident for the position.
Farmers who attended the meeting said that the prospects were that there would be a very short strawberry crop this year and that the blackberry crop would depend largely on the lay of the land on which the berries were grown.

ATHLETES PRACTICE FOR NEENAH MEETING

New London High School to Send Squad of Eight for Events Saturday

Special to Post-Crescent.
New London—Work is being continued daily at the local athletic field, getting the 8 candidates who will compete in the conference track meet on Saturday afternoon. For the events, M. Berglund and M. Folsom will accompany the squad, which will be composed of Norman Seimert, Royal Tern, Monroe Brown, Winston Thomas, George Bellie, Roger Sloan, Charles Sofia, and Eugene Dexter.

Fourteen events are scheduled for the meet, which will be held at the Neenah Athletic field. According to present plans, New London candidates will take part in all of the events, with the possible exception of the relay race.
Following the close of the track season, the boys will begin their training down to spring football. It has been found that teaching the fundamentals of football to students who will in all probability make the team next autumn saves much time and paves the way to a speedier get-away to finished playing. With the remaining weeks of school devoted to practice, the coaches feel that the squad will more readily react to situations, and that the first game of the season can be set fully three weeks ahead of the schedule when only autumn practice alone is resorted to. The first game of the fall season is scheduled two weeks after the beginning of school.

Auto Thief Leaves Car In Front Of Owner's Garage

New London—After pursuing an automobile bandit from this city to Oshkosh, back to New London and part way to Shawano, and after a dragnet had been spread over this section of the state, Guy M. Seigel found his new Hudson sedan back in the down town garage on the evening of the same day it disappeared.

The car disappeared at about 3:30 Wednesday morning. The bandit had backed it out of the garage at the Seigel residence and not until the sound of the starter aroused Mrs. Seigel and a roomer at the residence did members of the household realize that mischief was afoot.

When Mr. Seigel reached the street the car was disappearing down East Washington-st. Some time was lost in reaching his garage and service station on S. Pearl-st. and in notifying the police, who, in turn, telephoned the alarm to Hortonville, Appleton and Oshkosh. Mr. Seigel, with two men from the garage, gave chase. At Greenville they branched off taking the Oshkosh road and had almost reached the Grange hall north of Oshkosh when a car swept out of the dimness traveling without lights. The trick took the pursuers by surprise, but as the car passed they singled out the dealer's number and the advertising line on the spare tire cover which they believed to be that of the Guy M. Seigel garage. Turning quickly, they again took up the chase which led back to New London, Appleton and Bear Creek. The car in which the three men were following was capable of only a limited speed while the car ahead was a speedy one.

It was about this point when the three lost the trail, thinking their next best chance to spread the alarm by telephone. Police in various towns were notified, but late on Wednesday no arrest had been made. At about 9:30 Wednesday evening the car was found in the parking space near the Franklin hotel which is immediately across the street from the Hudson garage.

The Catholic Order of Lady Foresters met in regular session at Parish hall Tuesday evening. Following the business routine, five hundred was played, the prize for high score being awarded to Mrs. Matthew Meinhardt for second high to Mrs. Peter Laux and for consolation to Mrs. Edward Kleinbrook. The social committee in charge included Mrs. Leonard Cline, Mrs. Anthony Herres and Mrs. Leona Polaski.

Plans for the annual picnic were discussed at the meeting of the Walther League of Emanuel Lutheran church, held at the church basement Tuesday evening. The affair will be held some time in June, the date to be announced later. Matters pertaining to the Walther League rally of zone 5, held in this city Sunday also were discussed and settlements made. Plans were made to attend the Walther League convention of the Northern Wisconsin district at Eau Claire in August.

National music week will be observed at the meeting of the New London Civic Improvement League at the city hall Monday evening, May 14. The business session for the members of the League will be held at 7:30. Annual dues will be paid at this time. A musical program will be given at 8:15 to which all teachers of the New London schools and their families have been invited. Mrs. George Lee, chairman of the program committee, has announced the following numbers: Piano solo, "A Red Rose" Shirley Ritchie; vocal solos, "Gypsy Love Song" and "Just a Cottage Smell," Mrs. Milton Ullrich; piano, "Tandem" and "Polly," Miss Jean Desert; and Miss Mildred Lyons; vocal duets, "June Brought the Roses and You" and "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," Mrs. Carlton Reuter and Mrs. Edward Zimmer; clarinet and cornet duet "Pala Polka" and "Alita" from Wallflower.

An old fashioned party will be given at Royal Neighbor hall Monday evening for the members of the Royal Neighbor lodge and their families. Those attending the affair are asked to appear in old fashioned clothes. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Edna Moser, Mrs. Jessie Dent, Mrs. Alice Brandow.

1928 Officers Chosen at First Meeting of Year at Cottage on Lake

Special to Post-Crescent.
Clintonville—The Lions club held its first meeting at the club house at Clover Leaf lakes, this season, on Tuesday evening. The building was recently equipped with electric lights, as the Wisconsin Power and Light company has extended its lines to give service to cottagers at the lakes.

New officers for the coming year elected at this meeting were as follows: president, Earl Moldenhauer; vice president, Thomas Patterson; second vice president Otto Eberhardt; secretary, Henry Weller; treasurer, Dwight Breed; directors elected for two years were the retiring president Paul Fischer and A. E. Hutchinson. It was voted to send the incoming president as a delegate to the international convention of Lions clubs at Des Moines, Iowa, in July.

Edward Moran of St. Paul who was a guest of Rudolph Schmidt, addressed the meeting briefly.
Three little girls, Isabelle Wega, Dorothy Eggleston and Ruth Thorson had a narrow escape from death or serious injury Tuesday when they were knocked down by a car driven by Arthur Schnorr. The car was proceeding up Main-st very slowly, and the three little girls started to cross the street near Folkman's store, three abreast, with locked arms, darting out so suddenly that, according to several spectators, it was impossible to avoid a collision.

They were taken to a doctor's office where examinations were made, and X-ray pictures taken. Isabelle suffered a severe scalp wound and has been confined to bed for a few days. The other girls escaped with bruised bodies.

A district convention of Odd Fellows was held Tuesday evening at Wittenberg. District Deputy, Thomas Landon of Clintonville, presided. More than 20 men from the local order attended the gathering. Those from here were: Thomas Landon, William Barum, Lloyd Pinkowski, Frank Kohl, Herman Brohm, Arnold Schaefer, George Bollwell, Albert Kapinast, Joseph Moser, Fred Tanner, Arthur Newton, Advin Buehrens, Herbert Steffick, Charles Lyon, Albert Hoffman, Louis Johnson, Carl Rudolph, Charles Bokhaus, and William Buchholz.

MAY BAR GAMBLING FROM STATE FAIRS

Department of Agriculture
Outlines List of Permissible
Games

Madison—(AP)—Threat to withhold state aid for county and district fairs that do not comply with departmental regulations on games of chance operated on their midway is given the secretaries and managers of the fairs, with a letter today from the state department of agriculture outlining the permissible games.

W. A. Duffy, commissioner of agriculture issued, in the latter, the brief warning that "all games which are considered objectionable will be eliminated from Wisconsin county and district fairs, and backed up his statement with the assertion that department agents would inspect the midway and recommend departmental refusal of state financial aid in cases where the management left in operation "games of skill" that were not sanctioned.

The ruling wipes out practically all of the "games" which in past years have been permitted and allows only a greatly curtailed list. And even these will be eliminated if the department representatives find that they have been maneuvered so that they cheat or take the patron at a disadvantage.

Attention of the fair officers is called to the Wisconsin statute calling for the removal of the fair from the site where the fair is held, and Mr. Duffy advises the carnival and festival managers that they should prohibit fortune telling in any form, whether it be by phrenology, palmistry, crystal ball or what not.

The new regulations are in accord with the recommendations of the board of directors of the Wisconsin association of fairs. A. L. Putnam, Chippewa Falls, president of the association, and secretary J. F. Malone, Beaver Dam, met with commissioner Duffy and agreed that a drastic ruling would be necessary this year.

Emil Pladsen, state treasury agent, who issues licenses for such affairs, has agreed with the state official and association officers that he will withhold licenses from traveling shows and carnival companies offering the following games:

"Corn" games operated with darts or baseball. Nail driving games. High strikers. Weighing scales. Knife or cane racks, operated with legitimate rings where rings encircle objects placed for. This does not include the so-called "Hoopia" game. Any game for amusement only, where no cash or merchandise prizes are offered, such as African Dodge, Walking Charlie, Mechanical Shooting Galleries, etc.

Women Preserve Old Home Of Washington's Mother

Fredericksburg, Va.—No Mother's Day celebration in the country can be quite as significant as the one this historic Virginia city is holding.

In a picturesque little old house on a side street here once lived Mary Ball Washington, mother of George Washington. And the women of Virginia are holding special ceremonies in this building as part of an effort to collect funds to preserve it as a national shrine.

The house—a mere cottage originally, but enlarged by Washington after he bought it—came into possession of the Washingtons in 1772. When the Revolution loomed on the horizon, and it became evident there was trouble ahead, Washington urged his mother to leave her country home, on the Rappahannock, and move into Fredericksburg. For a time she demurred; finally, however, in March, 1775, she consented, and she made her home in the little house until her death in 1789.

Washington and his sister Betty, it is recorded, helped her move and made her comfortable. Her new surroundings, it is said that at first she did not like leaving her country home, but that she soon got used to town life and was glad she had made the change.

The rooms of the old house, still furnished as they were in Revolutionary days, are filled with historic associations.

In this house Mrs. Washington, one winter day, received a courier from her son telling her that he had ferried his army across the Delaware river and had whipped the British at Trenton. And here, after the Revolution had thundered up to its climax at Yorktown, Washington led a group of French and American officers to celebrate the surrender of Cornwallis. That homecoming was the first time mother and son had seen one another in nearly seven years.

To this house, also, came Washington in December, 1783, when peace had finally been signed and the American colonies had been recognized by the British king as a free and independent people. The citizens of Fredericksburg gave a great ball in Washington's honor, and the house was filled with bejeweled merry-makers.

Still later came a titled gentleman of France, "the son of two worlds," as his countrymen called him; the Marquis de Lafayette, accompanied by Washington's nephew, Robert Lewis. Lafayette, making a peace-time tour of the country he had helped win its freedom, wanted to pay his respects to the mother of the greatest American.

Mary Ball Washington received him in her old-fashioned garden beside the house, with the white-washed fence and gate and the box walk. There were fine, courtly phrases from the great Frenchman, met by a simple, noble dignity from the French national; and, as he left, Lafayette said: "I have seen the only Roman matron of my day."

One more scene the house has to recall; a scene of sorrow and high meaning. Washington was staying with his mother in March, 1783, when Charles Thompson came to notify him that the nation he had established had elected him its first president. Washington had to leave for the capital at once; and his mother was ill of an incurable disease. Both knew that this parting would be the last.

In the plain, home-like living room, by the white-paneled fireplace, knelt George Washington, to receive his mother's blessing before he left to enter upon his last period of service for his fellow countrymen. With prayers they parted; on August 25 of that year Mary Ball Washington died. She is buried in a country graveyard not far from the house.

TRUCK IN DITCH WHEN STEERING GEAR BREAKS

A truck owned by the Outagamie Milk and Produce company, Appleton, was badly damaged about 6:30 Wednesday morning, when the steering apparatus broke and it went into a ditch on Highway 41 about three miles north of the city limits. Harry Plaman, driver, was uninjured. One wheel was broken off and the motor was badly damaged. The truck narrowly missed crashing into a concrete culvert end-wall.

STUDEBAKER

The Great Independent

Announces
A New Record
for stock cars under $1400

Better than a mile a minute
for 5000 miles

The Dictator $1195 to $1395

F. O. B. FACTORY

By traveling 5,000 miles in 4,751 consecutive minutes, the Studebaker Dictator has established a record unequalled by any stock car under $1400—comparable to the existing world record of 5,000 miles in 4,559 minutes made by the Studebaker Commander last fall.

And not one, but two Dictator Roadsters, fully equipped, each traveled 5,000 miles in less than that number of minutes. The run was made under the supervision of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association. Before and after the run, the cars were checked by the Technical Committee and were pronounced strictly stock models.

CLAIMS vs. FACTS

Automobile advertising is full of extravagant claims of performance. But Studebaker offers you definite FACTS supported by the certificate of the highest motoring authority. Under A. A. A. supervision The Commander has made a record never approached by any other car on earth (25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes). The Erskine and The Dictator have made records unequalled by any other stock cars at or near their prices.

The high quality of materials, the precision workmanship, the rigid inspections and the engineering genius in the Studebaker Dictator are proved not only by its ability to travel 5,000 miles in less than 4,800 consecutive minutes, but also by the fact that any Dictator can be driven 40 miles per hour as soon as it leaves the assembly line at the factory. The engine and chassis dynamometer tests which Studebaker gives The Dictator are an exclusive Studebaker practice in cars of this price class.

We invite you to inspect The New Dictator which is offered in 10 body models at $1195 to $1395 f. o. b. factory. Backed by Studebaker's 76-year reputation for quality and value, The Dictator offers champion performance at a low One-Price plan.

PEDESTRIANS BENEFIT AS COUNCIL APPROVES NEW CITY ORDINANCES

Revised Traffic Laws Take Most of Time as Changes Are Explained

The pedestrian has finally found a champion in the common council of the city of Appleton, it was indicated Wednesday evening when the aldermen approved sections of the revised city ordinances.

No longer will a pedestrian have to take a chance with motorists who rush across the crosswalk lines as the traffic lights turn to green; no more will he have to dodge automobiles trying to beat the amber lights, or wait until the motorists get under way after stopping for an arterial highway and disregard the pedestrian.

The new city traffic ordinances provide that when a pedestrian is traversing a half section of the street when a traffic signal change is given, the automobile driver must wait until the pedestrian is out of danger. The rule also holds where automobiles are stopped for an arterial highway. If, after the car comes to a halt, a pedestrian has reached that particular section of the road all he must do to command the right of way is hold up his hand palm outward until he reaches the sidewalk.

CANYON LIGHTS
The new ordinance also settles once and forever the purpose of the amber lights as traffic signals. The amber light is to let the intersection become clear of automobiles; motorists are not allowed to enter a zone while the amber light is on.

However, there also are provisions in the new ordinances which probably will not meet with favor among pedestrians. One provision says a pedestrian cannot cross the street if the traffic lights are against him. Neither is crossing streets in the middle of the block permitted, especially in the business district. In residence districts the street can be crossed providing the pedestrian does so at right angle to the sidewalks.

The new ordinance will also sound the death knell for use of city streets as a garage. This provision is incorporated in a section which prohibits parking on city streets between 1 and 6 o'clock in the morning.

TRAFFIC LANES
The bicycle rider also comes in for a new ruling. Bicyclists will be prohibited from carrying a passenger on the handle bars and they must stay on the extreme right side of a road.

Another provision of the new ordinances allows for traffic lanes on business streets and gives the street department authority to paint such lanes whenever it is deemed necessary. This system also requires that persons about to make right hand turns take the extreme right lane; those who intend to go through must follow the left lane.

The general traffic laws of the state of Wisconsin all are incorporated in the new ordinances to permit the city to collect fines accruing from violations. Only in one or two instances did the aldermen object to sections of the proposed ordinances. These will be thrashed out at the regular meeting.

DISPLAY ETCHINGS IN PARLORS OF DORMITORY

A collection of etchings loaned by the Chicago Society of Etchers is on display this week in the parlors of Russell Sage, girls' dormitory of Lawrence college. The Chicago society is the most important organization of its type in the United States, and has very strict requirements. Mrs. Bertha Jacques, a member of the society, lectured on etchings in Lawrence chapel last week.

ing of the council next week. One of the sections held up was the 90 minute parking law.

The aldermen also discussed sections of the ordinances dealing with boundaries, ward boundaries, charter laws, boards, commissions, appointive officers and salaries and parks.

L. Hugo Keller, reviser of ordinances, read the new city code and explained the changes which have been made and the decimal numbering system which has been adopted.

How To Play Bridge

By Milton C. Work

In yesterday's articles I pointed out the ordinary disadvantages of bidding a suit when sitting on the left of a No Trump bid, but argued that a real probability of game should not be thrown away by a pass.

Some writers have gone to the extreme of advocating that Second Hand should never bid over Dealer's No Trump and, while the word "never" has no place in Auction Bridge vocabulary, it is unquestionably true that the large majority of suit-bids made by the player sitting on the left of the No Trump are unwise. Suppose, for example that South bid a No Trump and that West held:

Do You Know What a Woman of 30 Should Weigh?

It all depends on her height of course. If she is five feet seven inches in height she should weigh according to the best authorities 142 pounds. If she is 5 feet 5 inches her normal weight is 134 pounds.

If she is 5 feet 3 inches she should weigh 127 pounds. It's dangerous to be always striving to grow thin—the Adirondack Mountains and health resorts everywhere are filled with health shattered women who will tell you that it doesn't pay to be too thin.

That is why so many thousands of underweight men and women are putting their faith in McCoy Tablets.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

FARMERS ORGANIZE COOPERATIVE PLANT FOR MAKING CHEESE

Elect Temporary Officers and Subscribe Funds to Buy Equipment

BY W. F. WINSEY

Wednesday evening, the Twin Willows' Cooperative Dairy Company was organized in the School Section Cheese Factory, route 3, by 30 local milk producers. Temporary officers were elected, preliminary steps to incorporate were taken and $4,000 worth of stock in $50 shares subscribed. It was decided that the stockholders purchase and own the factory equipment, that the cheesemaker become a stockholder, and that the company rent the factory in which the making was held.

As soon as 20 per cent of the stock sold is paid in, the equipment, which will cost in the neighborhood of $2,000 will be purchased and the organization incorporated. After incorporation a board of directors will be elected and the board in turn will elect permanent officers.

The temporary officers are George Gesel, Archie Schwalback, Edward Nutten, Walter Oskey and Lewis Merkel. The cheesemaker is Ben Niewenhuis. George Gesel acted as chairman of the meeting.

The principal manager of the evening were E. G. Swoboda, manager of the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' Federation, A. J. Lammers, supply man of the federation, Gust Henke, secretary of the Shadyside Cheese Factory company, Mr. Niewenhuis and Mr. Gesel.

The business of the Twin Willows' Dairy company will be to manufacture and market cheese cooperatively, or to market milk or cream cooperatively through the officers.

YOUTH ADMITS KILLING SEVEN

Because his father would not let him have the family car, Owen Oberst, 17, of near El Dorado, Kas., killed his father and mother, his two brothers and three sisters and fired the house, burning the bodies, according to his confession to police. Before leaving the house, he took $40. Then he drove to town and attended a movie. Above are the slayer's brothers and sisters, whom he killed and (inset) Oberst.

opens with a comic introduction of Patricia Harrington. "The Patsy" of the Harrington family.

Fat, despite her troubles and they are many, persists in seeing humor in everything. No matter whether she is treading on the feet of the man she loves while dancing with him, knocking him over with an oar while helping him into a rowboat, or quoting half-baked epigrams stolen from a book on "personality," she laughs — and everyone who sees the picture laughs with her.

Have That Footlight Sheen

By Edna Wallace Hopper

To my audiences, my hair is of everlasting interest. It always looks alive and women admire its constant sheen.

One of my "secrets" is more cleanliness. The fascinating glow comes from the regular use of my liquid Wave and Sheen.

I shampoo my hair once a week under ordinary circumstances. After it dries I comb it and apply Wave and Sheen. Then I place my combs in the direction I wish the waves. (My hair is not curly.) You can get Wave and Sheen at any toilet counter. The price is 75 cents. Your money refunded if you are not pleased with results.

STAGE AND SCREEN

"VAMPING VENUS," NEW TYPE OF COMEDY

One of the most spectacular comedies ever made and a picture that will probably start a new era in comedies, comes to the Elite Theatre tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday.

The picture is "Vamping Venus," a First National comedy special in which Charlie Murray, Louis Fazenda and Thelma Todd are featured players.

The story deals with modern New York and ancient Greece, and First National provided a lavish production, on a scale seldom seen except in dramatic specials. Towering sets, hundreds of extra people, artistic backgrounds, thrilling battle scenes and other big features are provided, in addition to the comedy elements.

Charlie Murray and Louis Fazenda have never been funnier than in this laugh picture, and a splendid cast is seen in their support. The picture was directed by Eddie Cline, ace of comedy directors.

The cast includes such well known players as Big Boy Williams, Russ Powell, Spec O'Donnell, Fred O'Beck, Gus Partos, Janet McLeod, Gustav von Seyffertitz and many others. Thelma Todd, one of the most beautiful girls in pictures, is cast as "Venus."

It is the theory of First National that a combination of the spectacular and comedy elements make an ideal foundation for a great picture, and they proceeded on these lines in the production of "Vamping Venus." It is a radical departure from the usual run of comedies.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull listless "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face. Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c. adv

ZIMMERMAN GRANTS CLEMENCY TO FOUR; OTHERS ARE REFUSED

Release Oneida-co. Youths from Industrial School; Rapist Is Freed

Madison—(P)—Gov. Fred R. Zimmerman has granted clemency to four persons serving sentences in penal institutions of the state, and refused the pleas of 18 others, according to an announcement from the executive clemency board.

Seymour Bonnett, who was sentenced to from one to three years and from one to five years consecutively in the Milwaukee-co House of Correction by the municipal court for Milwaukee-co Nov. 14, 1925, for the crime of embezzlement, received an absolute pardon, and is restored to civil rights.

Andrew Szymanski received conditional pardon. He was convicted before the municipal court for Milwaukee-co on Feb. 17, 1927, of the crime of rape, and sentenced for five years in the county house of correction.

Michael Devine, who was sentenced by the county court of Columbia-co on Oct. 22, 1927 to one year in the Milwaukee-co House of Correction for violation of the state liquor law, was granted a conditional pardon. The provisions are that he shall refrain from use of intoxicating liquors, and shall remain at home with his family on their farm near Portage, Wis.

Two boys, Charles Sabola and Victor Sabola, who were sentenced by the county court for Oneida-co Aug. 27, 1927, to serve sentences in the Industrial School for Boys at Wauchesa, until they become 18 years of age, were granted conditional pardon by the governor and Mrs. Mary Bigus, Hatley, Wis., named legal custodian. Each was sentenced on charge of larceny and delinquency.

Persons to whom pardons were denied, the courts which sentenced them, and the crimes of which they were found guilty are: George Forsyth, Milwaukee-co municipal court, Oct. 6, 1927, one to two years in county house of correction for violation state narcotic law; James Powers, Milwaukee-co municipal court, May 27, 1925, five years for crime of rape; Frank Sweet (true name Henry L. Sweet), municipal court for Brown-co, Feb. 13, 1925, one to three years in state reformatory for assault with intent to rape; Henry Flatow, Milwaukee-co municipal court, Oct. 4, 1927, one to two years in the county house of correction for taking indecent liberties with minors; George Thompson, Milwaukee-co municipal court, Oct. 21, 1927, one year house of correction for crime of taking indecent liberties with a minor; Henry Brandenburg, Circuit court of Vilas-

Reproduce Wild Country At Chicago Exposition

Chicago—(P)—Dressed, as though by nature itself, with bits of wild woodland and scenes of the forest, a life-like panorama of the great northland out-doors is portrayed in the Coliseum with the Out-door Life Exposition this week.

The ceiling, decorated with pine, spruce and hemlock and the floor covered with a carpet of foliage from the northland, turned the big hall into a cross section of the outdoors as it exists in the five states—Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Montana and South Dakota, which were represented.

In addition to the tableau of the forests, there were two and a half acres of exhibits of interest to the hunter, guide, angler and lover of nature. Many booths were developed exclusively to new types of baits, firearms, game equipment and hundreds of new types of watercraft and boat motors. A motor boat show is being conducted in connection with the exposition.

Wisconsin's reproduction of one of its wild spots in the heart of summer vacation land in the north, was called the most complete of the exposition.

Through the center of the exhibit a stream poured into a swampland, the home of mallards and other wild fowl. In the foreground two young stags fought, with a wolf waiting, fangs bared, for the deer which lost.

Behind the waterfall picture was drawn another that showed work of the conservation department in keeping the wild life in Wisconsin as it has existed for centuries. Groups of miniature nurseries showed trees in various stages of development.

Conservation of wild life was also emphasized in Michigan's exhibit. One booth was filled with furs of wolves and other animals that prey upon the

FREE FAIR TICKETS SENT TO STUDENTS

Children to Find Many Changes When They Attend This Fall

BY W. F. WINSEY

Green Bay—Five thousand school children are receiving a special invitation to attend the Northeastern Wisconsin Fair this fall in the form of free tickets. The tickets are now being distributed through the office of E. A. Seymour, county superintendent of schools.

The premium list is now in the hands of the printer. When it is issued, each child will discover many feature of the fair designed especially for his education and entertainment. He will find that he may compete with pupils of his own grade in any line of school work. He will come to the conclusion that games, entertainment and premiums will draw all 4-H Club boys and girls in the vicinity to exhibit their projects, to compare their skill and to have a good time.

Attractive as they were last year, the boys and girls will notice that the fair grounds have been improved this year in appearance, service and convenience.

On visiting the grounds they will miss the old board fence on the south boundary of the ground and admire a brand new woven wire fence erected in its place. They will also notice that animals in the live stock buildings and horses in the speed barns may have a drink of fresh, cool, city water whenever they are thirsty.

On a certain day, announced in the premium book the 4-H Club day boys are to compete with each other in a showman's contest for prizes put up by the Wisconsin Livestock Association, and the girls of the clubs will compete in demonstrations of their projects. In another place in the premium book, the special attractions mentioned and briefly described is a horse pulling contest, which is to be put on by the college of agriculture.

ELECTION OFFICIALS IN OFFICE MAY STAY THERE

Madison—(P)—An official who was chosen to office in an election in which he served as election official may not be called upon to surrender his position. He may, however, be punished under provisions of the statute which fixes a penalty for willful violation of the law by an election officer, the attorney general informs: C. E. Soderberg, district attorney of Barron-co. The law provides that no candidates shall be officers at an election in which their names are voted upon.

The Buyers of 110,000,000 TIRES Can't be Wrong!

Goodyear has built and sold more than One Hundred and Ten Million Tires—millions more than any other manufacturer.

Goodyear uses nearly one seventh of all the crude rubber produced annually on the earth—50% more than any other manufacturer.

Year in and year out—for more than ten years Goodyear has held undisputed leadership in the tire field.

Goodyear builds the World's Greatest Tire—the acknowledged standard of quality.

More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

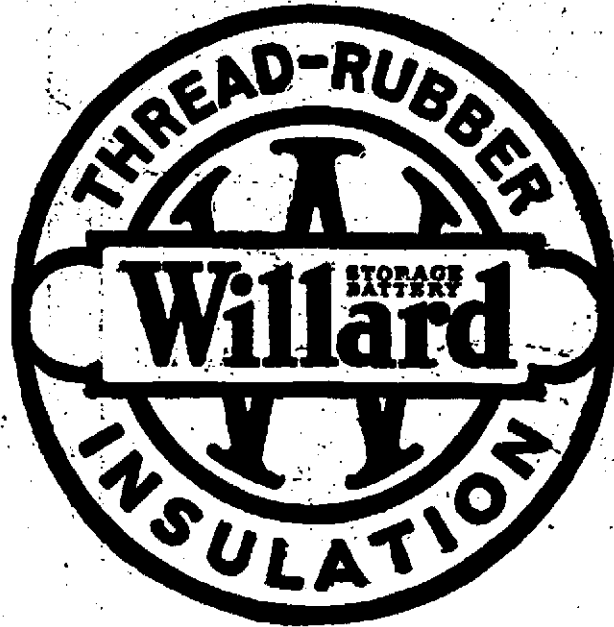

In this newspaper, in nearly every magazine you pick up, on the billboards—everywhere tire advertising appears you will find a lot of extravagant statements and heavy claims.

Up and down the streets and in and out alleys tire dealers feed the public on "Special Deals," "Big Sales," "Below Cost," the best this—the best that and a lot of other appellation. In the face of all this, aren't a few FACTS refreshing?

Because after all, what you want is a good dependable place to go where you will get the most for every tire dollar you lay on the counter.

You get just that, plus our prompt, expert, courteous service, when you step in here and buy a Goodyear Tire.

MORROW'S LIBRARY ON OIL LAND IS BEST

Ambassador to Mexico Has More Volumes on Subject Than That of Government

Mexico City—(AP)—Probably the world's largest library dealing with Mexican oil and land laws in their every aspect has been assembled in the United States embassy here by Ambassador Morrow. It is said that not even any department of the Mexican government, no oil or land company has so comprehensive a library upon these subjects.

The embassy possesses every important publication upon oil and land laws of Mexico that government or news have and in addition has dug up many obscure works, many rare old tomes of Spanish colonial times and ancient decrees of the Kings of Spain promulgating land and mining codes for Mexico. The second-hand bookstores of Mexico City have been searched by representatives of the embassy and many volumes of value retrieved.

Under the direction of Reuben Clark, Jr., former solicitor of the United States state department, here without official status at Mr. Morrow's request to assist the ambassador, the library has been gathered and its vital information translated, documented, typewritten and assembled in form for the ambassador to digest with the least loss of time.

When Ambassador Morrow first came here and began planning his work he said: "Before we can settle the oil question we must know as much about the oil question as anybody on earth. Our surest position will be to know more about the oil question than anybody else, even the Mexican government itself. That's what we must try to do."

The embassy library, under Mr. Morrow, has already overflowed into two large rooms previously used for other offices, threatens a third, and causes alarm to young secretaries who live in constant dread of having to turn over their quarters to bookshelves.

That is one reason why officials of the Mexican government confer so often with Mr. Morrow. He can tell them something. The other reason is they seem to like him.

PROMISE NEW SCRAP AS COMMITTEE MEETS

Republican State Central Group Will Probably Gather at Madison May 19

Madison—(AP)—The Republican state central committee will probably hold its first meeting since the delegate election in Madison May 15.

John Chase, Oconto, chairman of the committee, has indicated that he will call a meeting for that date to elect alternate delegates to the Republican national convention in Kansas City.

The selection of such alternates will be a second test of strength between the two factions of the party on the committee. When it last met in the fall to select a national committeeman and committeewoman, the regulars, by virtue of holding more proxies than the Progressives, chose George Wits, Manitowish, and Mrs. Harry E. Thomas, Sheboygan, to the national committee.

The lineup of delegates chosen in the delegate election of April 3 is 17 Progressives and 9 conservatives. Herman L. Ekern, former attorney general, and Philip La Follette, have been suggested as conservative and progressive, because of a promised contest for seat on the convention floor between Mr. Huber and Ben Marcus, Muskegon.

The committee is expected to reconvene and two alternates from the third district, one a conservative and one a progressive, because of a promised contest for seat on the convention floor between Mr. Huber and Ben Marcus, Muskegon.

Money Alone Won't Buy Seat On Stock Exchange

New York—(AP)—Getting a seat on the New York Stock Exchange is more than a matter of making a purchase.

The rules of the Exchange require that an applicant be at least 21, a citizen of the United States and of good character. Furthermore, he or she—for while there never has been a woman member, there's nothing in the constitution to bar one must obtain the agreement of some present member to resign, in order that, the total membership may not exceed 1,100.

An applicant must be proposed by two sponsors. Then there is the necessity of parting with some $395,000, or possibly a few thousand less if some member will sell his seat below top price, and $4,000 more is needed as an initiation fee.

That about completes the constitutional and financial phases of becoming a member, but there is still a committee on admissions to be satisfied. The committee looks rather closely into the personal history of applicants and makes up its collective mind concerning their fitness without disclosing upon what grounds its final judgment is based. It is known, however, that committee requires an applicant to be good health free from debt solvent and free from judgments. His integrity must be vouched for by at least three persons of standing. Until recently the committee looked with disfavor upon installment

APPROVE SALARY FOR NEW PUBLICITY MAN

Madison—(AP)—The state civil service commission has approved salary of $3,000 a year and title of superintendent of education and publicity which the conservation commission sought for Duane Kipp, who is expected to take office July 1.

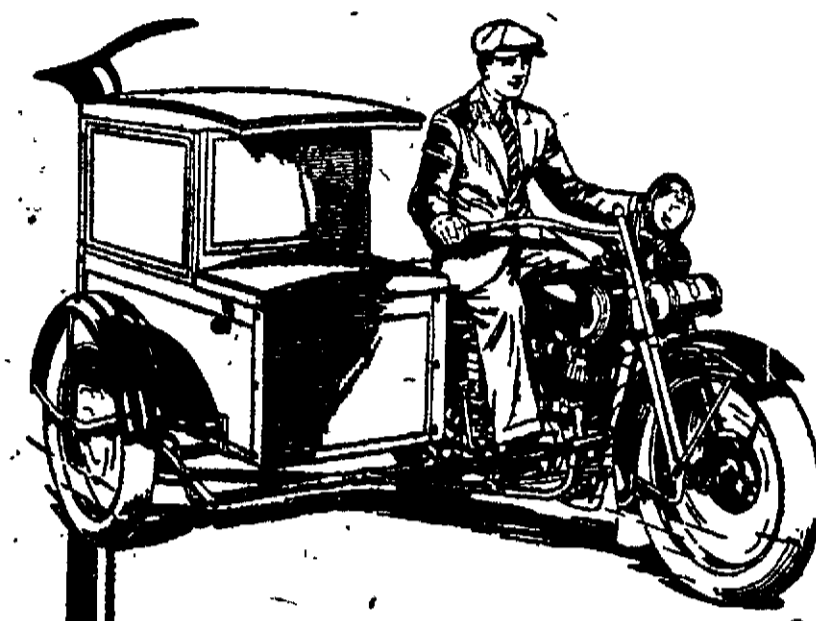

Formal notification to Mr. Kipp that he is to begin his new duties awaits conference between L. B. Nagler, director of conservation, and W. A. Mauthe, Fond du Lac, member of the commission.

Mr. Kipp is at present editor of the Alumni Magazine of the University of Wisconsin.

INTEREST ON LOANS CUT BY COMMISSION

Madison—(AP)—A reduction in the interest rates on loans to towns, counties, villages, cities, and incorporated boards of education, from 4½ percent to 4 percent has been made by the state land commission.

Trust funds of which the commission has charge, and from which loans are made, have accumulated a balance on hand April 10 of $1,348,884.00. The commission finds that balance larger than it wishes to maintain, and is reducing the interest rate. The loan body is forbidden by law to buy bonds which yield less than 4 percent interest.

They Dry Soft After Soaking—Due to Wolverine Shell Cordovan Horsehide

Think of tramping through rain, snow, and mud all day — yet next morning you slip into work shoes as plump and soft as the day you bought them. Think of wearing shoes that never rip or tear. And that wear long after ordinary work shoes are thrown away.

That's what you can now buy in Wolverines—due to a special kind of horsehide called Shell Cordovan Horsehide, tanned for work shoes only by Wolverine. It is taken from the horse's hips and includes the shell which reinforces the outside hide. That's why Wolverines show no signs of wear for months and months. The seams are drawn into the surface so you can hardly feel them. And the acids of clay soils, sweaty feet, manure piles, or dairy floors don't eat the leather.

Try one pair of Wolverines and you'll always prefer them. We have all styles—at prices that are surprisingly reasonable. Come in today.

Chefs Declare Composition Of Hot Dog Is No Mystery

Whatever the public may think of the American menus, a meeting of organized chefs and caterers in Chicago has given special interest and convincing authority to the proposal to uplift our dishes. Even soups are to be standardized. It is the contention of the cooks that we have shown no national ingenuity for making culinary conquests.

"In the past century," said Fred Schmidt of Louisville, Ky., "all America has produced is chop suey, hamburger steak and the hot dog—and nobody knows what's in them." And denser is the ignorance about a hors d'oeuvre. By the rating of C. L. Schweitzer of Chicago, "thousands don't know but what it's hors d'oeuvre. Sometimes it is."

But bringing the subject right here in Appleton, local culinary experts disagree with their Windy City brethren and say that such is not the case. They declare that numerous dishes have been "invented" and that the composition of the hot dog is not a mystery at all—although they do admit that the quality of the "barkers" varies.

All of this is bad enough for the uneducated palate. And yet, all is not darkness. The very fact that hamburger has names in 17 languages points to the bright hope that some day every one will know it as well by

BARNES HURLS "PATCHED-UP" GIANTS TO WIN OVER BUCS

Root Whips M'Weeney In Mound Duel To Give Cubs Fifth Straight Victory

Teams Battle 12 Frames Before Bruins Win, 2-1; No American Loop Games

How They Stand

The American League was ready Thursday to join the National in a continuation of the inter-sectional warfare which has been waged on the pennant fronts for a week. Rain and cold Wednesday prevented action in the American league sector, where the Yankees and the Indians are engaged in a hand-to-hand struggle for the lead, but teams in the senior circuit enveloped the west with their battles.

The features engagements of the afternoon, saw Virgil Barnes pitch the Giants to a 6 to 0 victory over the Pirates and found Buzz McWeeney and Charlie Root locked in a rare pitching duel in Chicago. The Brooklyn hurler yielded to the Cubs, 2 to 1, in the twelfth.

After pitching magnificent ball for eight innings, McWeeney skated on thin ice from the ninth to the twelfth. A hit meant the ball game at almost any time in this period, and McWeeney finally yielded it to Gonzales. Webb opened the twelfth with a double and advanced on Hack Wilson's sacrifice fly. Robby then called for the old army game and two men were passed to make a play possible at any base. Gonzales spoiled this fine strategy with a Texas league single to center.

ANOTHER FOR CHARLIE
The victory marked the second straight for the Cubs over Brooklyn, and gave Charlie Root his third success of the season.

Virgil Barnes gladdened the heart of John McGraw by the craft of his curves against the Pirates. The Giants, still shy two regulars through injuries and injuries, still presented a patched-up fighting front, but Barnes did so well that almost any sort of backing could have won for him.

The Braves lost their fifth straight game when Eppa Rixey emerged on top in a pitching battle against Genevick. The score was 4 to 1. Rixey was near to a substitute runner after scattering a single into an eighth-inning rally which netted Cincinnati three runs and the ball game.

There was no news in St. Louis. The Cardinals won as they pleased from the Phils and they pleased, 7 to 1. Frankhouse started his first game of the season for the Cards, and the best result proves he could have chosen no finer spot.

BASEBALL TEAM GIVEN FREE TRIP TO JAPAN

San Francisco—Talk about your college athletes having a tough time, what about your Southern California baseball team now, on the Pacific bound for Japan?

Those young men are having a four-day trip that might cost some paunchy millionaire several grands and it won't cost them a dime except what they spend for pleasure.

The Trojans are to play approximately 45 baseball games on this trip, against leading college teams of Japan, and will be in the far east until late in August. And what a lotta things there are to see in that country!

Among the numerous functions planned for the entertainment of the college boys is a special audience with Emperor Hirohito, and the imperial family.

Sam Crawford, former Detroit outfielder, is being assisted on the trip by Morley Drury, All-America quarterback last fall, as student manager. The trip will cover approximately 12,000 miles—and all expenses paid!

Installed as Favorites
Although the meet is several weeks off, Stanford's track team already has been installed a heavy favorite to win the I. C. 4-A honors at Harvard this year.

Performance Of Sam Gray For Browns Leading Upset

BY BILLY EVANS
Six victories in his first seven starts—that is the rather surprising record of Pitcher Sam Gray, with the St. Louis Browns this year.

No doubt Gray's performance has caused Connie Mack to be the club to do a lot of thinking. Last season Gray was a member of the Philadelphia Athletics. Connie, none too strong on pitching, traded him to St. Louis for outfielder Bing Miller, a former member of the Athletics.

Gray was one of the best six games for Philadelphia in 1927, despite the fact that the opposition averaged nearly five earned runs per game off his delivery. This probably caused Mr. Mack to decide Gray had more back than stuff and led to the decision to send him elsewhere.

Back in 1925, Gray, as a member of the Athletics, made an even more sensational start than this year. He won seven straight games. Then he suffered an injury and, as luck would have it, the St. Louis club, his prospective team, started his career. One of its players drove a home run back at Gray that so injured his hand he was out of commission a number of weeks.

When he returned to work, the long layoff seemed to have lessened his effectiveness. During the remainder of the season he pitched about 500 ball, ending the year with sixteen wins against eight defeats, after getting away to a flying start of seven straight wins.

Gray has a great curve ball and is almost unhittable when he has control. He has a sharp breaking curve with dazzling fast ball. So far

VALLEY CONFERENCE STILL BARS CAGE MEET

Among other matters decided on at the recent meeting of the Fox River Valley athletic heads at Green Bay was that the conference ruling on "no state tournaments" will apply only to basketball for the present. Any school which desires to enter statewide competition in track and other sports will be privileged to do so.

A discussion was held as to whether all basketball backboards in the conference should be painted or not. Pending the decision, the backboards at Fond du Lac are of glass and are transparent. No decision was made in the matter and each school will have such backboards as it sees fit to provide for the next conference season.

The official basketball in the conference next season will be any official lined valve ball. The mentors declined to name any particular brand as the official basketball to be used.

WINNING TEAM IN DUAL CONTEST IN LINE FOR HONORS

Manitowoc Picks Conqueror Here Saturday as Next Valley Conference Champ

Manitowoc—In a track meet, to be held Saturday morning at Appleton, between the Red and White track squad of the Manitowoc high school and the Orange thin clads of Appleton, a line will be obtained upon the probable winner of the conference track field meet which is to be staged at the Lincoln field here on May 26. For it is recognized that the two schools are the pick of the conference and the way they stack up in the Saturday meet will, in a great measure, determine how they will finish in the conference meet.

Last year Appleton won the conference meet, with Manitowoc second. In the conference meet at Appleton, while Appleton made the best showing in the field events, Manitowoc shone in the relays and runs. The local school took two out of the four relays. Appleton has not lost a meet in two years. In Johnston they have a star good for high points, and in this section. He did a little better last Saturday gathering three firsts and a fourth for sixteen points.

SCHREIBER NEW STAR
Manitowoc has uncovered a new star in Schreiber, who in addition to specializing in the high jump is also going in for the weight events, winning the javelin and also placing in the shot put. It is recognized that the Johnsmen will have the advantage in the track events, but in the field events, outside of the high jump, the Red and White will be weak.

HEIMACH BLANKS HENS FOR SEVENTH STRAIGHT

Chicago—(P)—Freddy Heimach, star pitcher for St. Paul who has been in and out of major league baseball three times, seems destined for another try in "big time."

Wednesday, he turned in his eighth straight victory of the season by blanking Toledo, 7 to 0.

All the western teams of the association won Wednesday. Minneapolis rallied five runs across in the ninth inning to defeat Columbus, 11 to 10; Milwaukee defeated Louisville, 6 to 1; as Griffin and Pick scintillated at bat, Kansas City owned Indianapolis, 5 to 4, and St. Paul turned back Toledo in a game which was held to six innings because of heavy clouds and a dust storm.

NEW ITALIAN HEAVYWEIGHT

One of the latest foreign importations in the cauliflower business is Umberto Torino, this nice-looking young man who is the heavyweight champion of Italy and college graduate. He plays several musical instruments. Outside of that, little is known of him except an ambition—to fight for the world's championship some day. Oh, yes, he knows Shakespeare.

Badgers Entertain Three Rivals In Quadrang Meet

Madison—As a fore-runner to the Big Ten track championships, teams from four of the conference schools will clash at Camp Randall stadium Saturday in the fifth annual outdoor Quadrangular meet. The four entries are Chicago, Northwestern, Ohio State and Wisconsin.

The feature events of the program will be the 100 and 200 yard dashes. A half dozen of the fastest sprinters in the middle west will go to their marks in the century. The favorite to win is Simpson of Ohio State, who has a 9.6 seconds 100 to his credit this season.

Other fast dash men are Hermanson of Northwestern, Kriss of Ohio State, Gleason of Chicago and Capt. Smith and Larson of Wisconsin. The latter, a newcomer this spring, was clocked at 9.9 seconds in the meet last week Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota.

These some six sprinters will compete in the 220 yard dash, which also promises to be a great race. The quarter will resolve itself into a contest between Walter of Northwestern and Gist of Chicago, although the former is without a doubt the best 440 man in the western conference.

Gist will also run the half mile, with Gorbey of Northwestern as his nearest opponent. Tooley and Leomis of Ohio, Williams of Chicago and Bullamore and Potaja of Wisconsin will fight it out for honors in the distance runs.

The pole-vault can be conceded to Droggsmueller of the Purple team, for the other four schools have no vaulters who have come close to his record this season. Coach Frank Hill also has a splendid high jump in Root, although Anson of Ohio will make this event interesting.

Mayer of Wisconsin is a sure point winner in the javelin and may cop the event. The Buckeye hurdle star, Rockaway, must outdistance Pahlmeyer of Wisconsin if he is to continue his brilliant work of the year. Northwestern and Ohio appear to have the greatest strength in the weight events. Rasmus is a good discus thrower, while both Bagge and Sinkler of Northwestern have been putting the short around 45 feet. Gabalos of Ohio should set the pace in the hammer throw.

The doopers have given the Ohio State thin-clads the best chance to cop the meet, with Northwestern and Wisconsin conceded to be even for second. The Maroons will do well if they take a third.

FILIPINO FOLLOWS ADAGES TO SUCCESS

San Francisco—Speedy Dado, Filipino flyweight who only recently was defeated by Newsboy Brown, keeps a scrapbook which he uses for mottos on how to succeed.

Among other things to be found in Dado's reminder are these familiar adages:

1. Choose to do the right thing.
2. Follow the advice of people who know.

3. Don't let the head get big.
4. Don't be disappointed over criticism. Maybe you need some.

5. Above everything, never do a thing without your whole might in it.

The little Filipino, although beaten by Brown, is being hailed by coast cities as one of the best in his class.

JESS SWEETSTER ONCE WANTED TO BE BALL PLAYER

Learned Star Golf Game in East After Trying Diamond Snort in South, West

New York—(P)—Jess Sweetster, former amateur golf champion of the United States and the only native born American who has won the amateur championship of Great Britain, is a product of eastern golf. In the south and west he was a baseball player.

"I have played golf since I was about 12 years old," said Sweetster, "but never gave much serious attention to the game until I came east to live. In Kentucky, where I was born, I played baseball and at St. Louis, my next residence, I still liked baseball more than golf."

"In the east, there is no room for baseball, so I had to give up thoughts of becoming a major league star and then had more time for golf, with some running on the side. I thought I was quite a sprinter, but pulled a tendon at Yale and could not run any more. The baseball season was too far gone to try to do any serious playing there, so I then specialized on golf and have majored in that sport ever since."

"What position did you play in baseball?" Jess was asked.

"Pitcher and catcher."

It was suggested that the combination was a bit unusual.

"Well, you see," the golf star explained, "My older brother was a pitcher too, and when I played with his gang, he invoked the seniority rule and forced me to catch. When he was not in the game, I pitched."

The specialization in golf bore almost immediate results for in 1920, Sweetster won the intercollegiate championship for Yale. He had failed to qualify in the national amateur in 1919 but the momentum of his college triumph, the next year, carried him into the amateur event and to the third round where he was defeated by Fred Wright. In 1921, he again moved on to the third round in the amateur where he ran into Chick Evans and thereafter joined the gallery for the rest of the championship.

Jess is one month younger than Bobby Jones but he beat the great Atlanta golfer to a national title by winning the amateur in 1922. Bobby did not start his string of successes until the next year.

Jess' greatest golfing triumph was the capture of the British amateur in 1926. Not only did he have to defeat Renwick, Quimet, MacCormack, Cave, Scott and Brownlow but he had to fight against influenza and a sprained knee all the way and an injured wrist from the semi-final to the end.

The British amateur cup had visited the United States 22 years before in the custody of W. J. Travis but Travis was a native of Australia, so Sweetster was the first home bred to bring the cup back with him.

Jess expects to play on the Walker cup team at Chicago, enter the gold mashe tournament at Newport and try to win the amateur title again at Brae burn.

"I would like to play in the open, too," said the big fellow with the

LAWRENCE TRACKMEN TO MEET BELOIT SATURDAY

There will be no track and field meet at Whitling Athletic field Saturday afternoon, according to Blue athletic authorities. A mixup in schedules caused the report to go round that the first annual contests of the newly-formed Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic Association would be held here, but the meet is on May 26 instead. Lawrence invades Beloit Saturday afternoon for a dual meet with its ancient rival and Manitowoc high is here Saturday morning to meet Appleton high.

pleasant smile, "and it's not my health keeps me out. It's business. I can't spare the time." Jess is a broker and is very busy every day but Sunday from the opening until the close of the stock exchange.

Sweetster Thursday is playing as good golf as ever. He is hitting a long ball from the tee and playing his approach shots to the green as only Jess and a few others have learned to do. Sweetster can claim a place beside Walter Hagen as the master of the mashe niblick.

"I was in only one trap on the two rounds."

The only man in the United States who has been amateur champion of both his own country and Great Britain gets his greatest thrill before his matches.

"Were you too sick to get a kick out of winning the British championship?" was a question causing a smile.

"No, I got a kick out of it," he said. "But after all I think the thrill of anticipation is always greater than that of realization."

GIVE OUT PRIZES TO C. O. F. PINMEN

Appleton Men Receive Both
Local League, Valley Meet
Awards

Two sets of prizes were awarded to bowlers of the Appleton Court of the Catholic Order of Foresters at their 1928 annual pin banquet this week. Prizes for the local league season and those won by local bowlers in the fifth annual Fox River Valley C. O. F. tournament held at Little Chute from March 28-April 22. Sixteen local fifteen-man teams were in that meet, with 15 doubles and 25 singles bowlers.

Appleton men in prize money at the Chute meet and added $52 in goodfellowship money, besides several of the bowlers winning merchandise donated by Chute merchants. In the five-man event Shorty's Five with a 2458 mark finished ninth to take $15.00 and C. O. F. No. 132 with 2432 finished tenth for $10. Members of the Shorty's Five are John Bauer, captain; Robert Merkle, H. London, M. J. Toonen and A. P. Faas. Those of the tenth place team are J. H. Balliet, captain; A. A. Gritzmacher, Nick Weber, P. Abendroth and Joseph Schweitzer.

Goodfellowship prizes in the five-man event went to the N. G. N. G. N.'s with $10; All-Americans, $7.50; Insurance Five $7.50; Top Snatchers, $7.50; Cracker Jacks, $7.50.

BADGERS END FOOTBALL PRACTICE WITH BATTLE

Madison—Spring football practice at Wisconsin will culminate in a regulation game next Monday afternoon at Camp Randall stadium. Head Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite announced Thursday two teams, dubbed the "Aces" and "Naves" eleven, will line up at the kick-off.

The Badger grid candidates have been hard at it since early April. The coaches have a fair line on the new material now, and feel that work may be suspended until September 15th.

The bright spot of this spring's drill has been the performance of a half dozen freshmen backs, all of whom are possibilities for steady work in the Cardinal backfield next fall. Monday's game will give these recruits a chance to show.

WEEK'S GAMES

Wednesday—Legion 25, Valley Iron Works 1.

Thursday—Bankers vs Co. D.

Friday—Interlakes vs Brandts.

With a stronger team than it has boasted for two years even when it won the city and Fox river valley championships two years ago, the American legion softball crew had an easy afternoon with the newly-formed Valley Iron Works team in a National League game Wednesday at Jones park. The Soldiers romped over the Ironmen for a 25-1 victory, hitting the ball to all corners of the field and taking advantage of many errors on the part of the losers. Meanwhile the Valley team couldn't break through the star legion defense. It was the largest score in local league softball games for several years.

The victory led the legion to first place with the Riverside Fibre and Paper Co. team, which opened the league season Tuesday with a win over the Schlafers Hardware. The Schlafers team replaced the Ender Printers who decided to drop from the league.

SCRAPPERS READY FOR RETURN BOUT

Al Kubiak, Walter Madey
Seek to Settle Dispute of February

Green Bay—It won't be long now before the so-called "Accs of Sock," Al Kubiak and Walter (KO) Madey climb into the sixteen-foot roped arena and settle their little dispute that was started last February.

Fans will long remember the two previous meetings between the pair at the Columbus club here. In the first meeting between them Madey took the count in the first round. Kubiak was knocked out in the fourth round of the April 16 fight.

The April battle gave the fans more action than any other fight ever witnessed here. Both boys had the other on the verge of a knockout several times during the fracas.

The fight started off somewhat in the same way as the February battle. Kubiak opened up by landing one on Madey's jaw that looked like another knockout for the Pulaski boy. Madey weathered the storm, however, and came back to cut loose with a series of rights that had Kubiak groggy.

KUBIAK KNOCKED OUT

The second round also saw plenty of action with Madey trying most of the leading and Kubiak doing to put in a haymaker. In the third round, after a lot of action, Madey went to the floor with a thud when Kubiak connected with the Chicago boy's jaw. He was out completely but the bell saved him.

At the start of the fourth round, Madey looked as if he never would weather the frame. Several blows to the head seemed to bring Madey out of his semi-coma, however, and he came back strong slashing Kubiak and driving the latter to the ropes. Kubiak then went down for a seven count but arose. Madey pressed after him taking advantage of the opening and again sent the Pulaski boy to the floor, this time for the count of eight. Kubiak staggered to his feet and was out standing up, after a few more punishing blows by Madey. Referee Jager wisely halted the fight, Madey winning the battle on a technical knockout.

Fight fans here are betting two to one that the "rubber" battle between the two here next Monday will not go more than five rounds. Kubiak working out at the Columbus club appears to be the favorite in most of the advance bets, but there are very few takers.

MADEY ARRIVES FRIDAY

Madison—Madey has been training for the fight at Muller's gym at Chicago. He is due to arrive Friday and go through some light workouts before the battle.

The last card of the spring season put on by the Brown County Boxing club will have a double-windup as the feature. Besides the Kubiak-Madey go, Joe Azzarella of Milwaukee and Stewart McLean, St. Paul, two of the best lightweights in the business will mix in a ten round battle.

Azzarella has met some of the best lightweights in the country, twice fighting Sammy Mandel, present champion in no-decision battle. He also fought Joey Sangor, of Milwaukee, a number of times and has yet to take the ten count.

McLean recently won by a wide margin over Morse at Madison. The latter is remembered by fight fans for his defeat of Joe Cleary at Janesville April 16. Previous to the Madison battle, the St. Paul light-

EXPECT ZIMMERMAN TO SEEK JOB AGAIN

Has Made No Announcement
but Friends Are Sure He Will Enter Race

Madison—Political adherents of Gov. Fred R. Zimmerman expect him to announce his candidacy for reelection to the executive office within the next ten days or two weeks.

Petitions asking that his name be included among those seeking nomination in the September primary election must be filed with the secretary of state by the last of July, and his supporters must be given time to obtain the required number of signatures.

No public statement has yet been made by the governor that he wishes to be chosen to the gubernatorial office again, but his friends are sure, and it is generally assumed, that he will seek reelection.

For the Republican nomination he has opposing him thus far Joseph D. Beck, congressman from Viroqua, who was endorsed for the office last fall by the LaFollette Progressive faction of the party. Gov. Zimmerman's last weight fought some of the best boys on the Pacific coast.

Frankies Droy, of Marinette, will fight six rounds against Al Martin in the semi-windup match. Both batters will weigh in at 150 pounds.

The curtain raiser will see Charlie Crocker of Iron Mountain, Mich., fighting Young Caruso, Milwaukee at 130 pounds.

SHERIFFS WITH SALARY DO NOT GET EXPENSES

Madison—(P)—Sheriffs who receive a fixed salary compensation are not entitled to reimbursement for expenses incurred in taking persons to state institutions, the attorney general has informed John B. Chase, district attorney of Oconto co.

Nor is a sheriff or his deputies entitled to expenses for performance of duties, either within or without the county, except that they may receive compensation for acting as agent of the state in extradition cases.

Plays All Infield Positions

Martv McManus of the Detroit Tigers, can play every position on the infield. He was used at second and short last season and has played third and first for the Tigers this year.

Promising College Boxer

Les Marriner, former tackle at the University of Illinois, is one of the best ring prospects from the college ranks. He won 11 of his first 12 fights as a professional. He is a heavyweight.

GIRL ALONE

BY ANNE AUSTIN

THIS HAS HAPPENED

SALLY FORD, who knows no other home but the state orphanage from the time she is four, goes to CLEM CARSON'S farm the summer she is 16 to work for her keep. She meets DAVID NASH, handsome young student of scientific farming who is working on the Carson farm. David likes Sally and shows that he prefers her to PEARL, Clem's gaudily-dressed daughter. This angers Pearl and she treats Sally with insulting disdain. Pearl determines to get rid of Sally and sneaks into her room and hides a diamond pin there. When she accuses Sally of theft, David confronts Pearl with the lie and tells her he saw her secrete the pin in Sally's room. Carson warns Sally that Pearl and David are practically engaged. One afternoon David gets a moment with Sally and begs her to call on him if she ever needs him. Then he asks her to go for a walk with him that night. NOW GO TO STORY

CHAPTER IX

"Sally was eager as a child, when she joined David Nash in that part of the lane that skirted the orchard. Although it was nearly nine o'clock it was not yet dark; the sweet, throbbing peace of a June twilight, disturbed only by a faint breeze that whispered through the leaves of the fruit trees, brooded over the farm. "I hurried—as fast as I could," she gasped. "Grandma Carson ripped up this dress for me this afternoon and while you and I were washing dishes Mrs. Carson stitched up the seams. Wasn't that sweet of her? Do you like it, David? It was awful dirty and I washed it in gasoline this afternoon, while I was doing Pearl's things. She backed away from him, took the full skirt of the yellow dress between the thumb and forefinger of each hand, and made him a curtsy. "You look like a picture in it," David told her gravely. "When I saw Pearl busting out of it I had no idea it was such a pretty dress. "I couldn't have kept it on tonight if Pearl hadn't already left for the party at Willis's. Was she terribly mad at you because you wouldn't go?" David shrugged his broad shoulders but there was a twinkle in his eyes. "Let's talk about something pleasant. Want a peach, Sally?" And Sally, who had pealed so many for canning those last few days that she had thought she never wanted to see another peach. But this was a special peach for David had chosen it for her, had touched it with his own hands. They walked slowly down the fruit-scented lane together, Sally's shoulder sometimes touching David's coat-sleeve, her short legs striving to keep step with his long ones. She listened, or appeared to listen, drugged with content her fatigue and the smarting of her gasoline-reddened hands completely forgotten. "We got a good stand of winter wheat and oats. There's the wheat. See how it ripples in the breeze? Look! You can see where it's turning yellow. Pretty soon its jade-green dress will be as yellow as gold and along in August I'll cut it. That's wheat, over there," and he pointed to a distant field of foot-high grain. "It's so pretty—all of it," Sally sighed blissfully. "You wouldn't think just to look at a farm, that it makes people mean and cross and stingy and ugly, would you?" "Price like growing things for people to eat ought to make us happy. "Farmers don't see the pretty side; they're too busy. And too worried."

to bear! From the time we enter the orphanage we are made to feel that everyone else is better than we are, and it's not right, for children, who will be men and women some day, with their livings to make, to feel that way!"

"Yes, an inferiority complex is a pretty bad handicap," David interrupted gently. "I know about inferiority complexes," Sally took him up eagerly. "I've read a lot and studied a lot. We had a branch of the public library in the orphanage, but we're only allowed to take out one book a week. I'll graduate from high school next—June—if I go back! But I won't go back!" she cried. "But Sally, Sally, what could you do?" David persisted. "You haven't any money—" "No," Sally acknowledged passionately. "I've never had more than a nickel at one time to call my own! Think of it, David! A girl of 16, who has never had more than a nickel of her own in her life! And only a nickel given to me by some soft-hearted, sentimental visitor! But I can work, and if I can't find anything to do, I'd rather starve than go back." David's hand, concealed by the darkness, was upon hers before she knew that it was coming. "Poor Sally! Brave, high-hearted little Sally!" David said so gently that his words were like a caress. "Charity hasn't broken your spirit yet, child. Just try to be patient for a while longer. Promise me you won't do anything without telling me first. I might be able to help you—somehow."

"I—I can't promise, David," she confessed in a strangled voice. "I might have to go away—suddenly—from here—" "What do you mean, Sally?" David's hand closed in a hurting grip over hers. "Has Pearl—Mr. Carson—told you what you mean?" "When I promised to come walking with you tonight I knew that Mr. Carson would try to take me back to the orphanage, if he found out. But—I wanted to come. And I'm not sorry. "Do you mean that he threatened you?" David asked slowly, amazement blazing at his words. "Because of Pearl—and me?" "Yes," she whispered, hanging her head with shame. "I didn't want you to know, ever, that you'd been in any way responsible. He—he says it's practically settled between you and Pearl, and that—that I—oh, don't make me say any more!" David groaned. She could see the muscles spring out like cords along his jaw. "Listen, Sally," he said at last, very gently. "I want you to believe me when I say that I have never had the slightest intention of marrying Pearl Carson. I have not made love to her. I'm too young to get married. I've got two years of college ahead of me yet, but even if I were older and had a farm of my own, I wouldn't marry Pearl—" "Come out of that corn!" A loud, harsh voice cut across David's low-spoken speech, made them spring guiltily apart. "I ain't going to stand for no such goings-on on my farm!" Clem Carson had propped like an angry, frustrated animal, through the fields until he had spied them out. (To Be Continued)

HI-Y BOYS TALK OVER YOUNG WOMEN FRIENDS

"Characteristics we like to see in our girl friends," was the topic discussed by "A" chapter of the Hi-Y club Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Norman Zanzig was chairman of the committee in charge of the discussion. The "B" chapter of the Hi-Y club discussed ways in which the death rate from accident might be reduced in Appleton. Howard Ruth led the discussion. Plans for a first aid team resulted from the discussion and it was decided to appoint a committee to arrange for a team. Plans for a joint picnic of the two chapters and the Girls Reserve of the Appleton high school also were discussed at the meeting. A joint committee of Tad Meyer, chairman of the "A" chapter; Michael Gochbauer, and Kenneth Downer of the "B" chapter, and Lynn Handyside of the Girls Reserve will arrange for the picnic the latter part of May.

Chassis leader of the day supreme in Beauty too

The New Hudson's distinction in vogue is adding thousands of beauty lovers to the hosts who want its supremely brilliant performance. And all are delighted to find, with all its other economies, a gasoline saving never attained by a car of its weight and size. Any new Hudson owner will be proud to tell you all about this new advantage.

The consistency of Hudson leadership is but the performance of its first principle, resolution and tradition—to always lead in value. Thus it was the first car at moderate price to give truly great performance, smoothness and reliability—the industry's standard today.

Thus it was the first in the development of American closed cars, and such smart turnouts as the Town Car and Speedster. The Coach—a Hudson invention—turned the entire industry to closed cars.

The Super-Six principle and its companion invention that turns waste heat to power, is the most efficient combination in development and transmission of power, within our knowledge.

GOOD WISCONSIN FARMS ARE DESERVING OF GOOD NAMES

NEW BULLETIN URGES OWNERS TO THINK UP ATTRACTIVE TITLES

Says 190,000 Farms are the Same in Many Ways and Need Identification

Madison—(P)—Good Wisconsin farms deserve good names. A bulletin, "Name Wisconsin Farms," just published by the Department of Agriculture, Journalists at the state university says that the 190,000 farms of Wisconsin are similar to each other in many ways but each and every one should have an attractive name that will describe and distinguish it.

"There is something about any well chosen farm name that makes one, upon hearing it, picture the farm as a happy, home-like and a reliable place at which to transact business."

The proprietor of a well named farm knows that to maintain a good reputation for his products, he must supply the market with only the best farm products, according to the bulletin.

The publication says that a good farm, with a good name, and high grade products, becomes well known. The customer, finding out that he can rely on the products of this particular farm, willingly pays a higher price for his purchases.

Another advantage of the farm name, the bulletin states, is that all products from this particular farm may be labeled in case a certain product attains a national fame as many farm products do.

The pamphlet says that the name of every farm deserves protection. It points out three ways to protect farm names from duplication—copyrighting the name at the United States Patent office, or at the Wisconsin State office, or by the association of the livestock which you are breeding, record the name for your use, and recording it with the county Register of Deeds.

After an attractive, suitable name has been decided upon, and protected properly in the name of the owner, the use to which it may be put are many.

"Among them are a stamp for farm produce sold in town or at the road market—such as butter, cheese, milk, cider, poultry, and meats—as an attractive display for farm letter-heads and envelopes—for use in all advertising, such as in the weekly newspaper, and farm magazines, printed circulars or cards, milk bottles, baskets, crates, cartons, shipping tags, trucks, wagons, window displays, barn signs, if in good view of the highway, and road signs, and so on."

The Wisconsin Farm Marker, designed according to the style of the old English tavern signs, is given credit by a Walworth county farmer, as the means of disposing of over $6,000 worth of livestock and produce from his farm during a single year.

The sign, as described by the bulletin, measures 24 by 36 inches and is suspended by a cross arm out in to the road which is supported by a 4 by 6 inch post 16 feet long. Paints were selected only after careful consideration as to what would last with the result that it is both attractive and permanent in construction.

TRY EXPERIMENTS ON WINTERKILLED LANDS

Oconto-co Farmers Face Serious Situation With Many of Crops Gone

BY W. F. WINSEY
Oconto—J. I. Etheridge, county agent, reports a considerable loss of new and old seedlings of alfalfa, clover, sweet clover, and also like clover in Oconto-co through winter-killing.

The farmers who have suffered these losses are planning on raising emergency hay crops. One group will experiment with soybeans, another with a mixture of oats and field peas, another with Sudan grass and another with millet.

According to Mr. Etheridge, any of these emergency hay crops will do well on the average soil of Oconto-co.

A number of farmers who have lost their sweet clover pasture will sow sweet clover with a nurse crop of oats or barley, the nurse crop to be harvested early and the sweet clover to be used in the fall for pasture.

Through the cooperation of the county superintendent of schools, and high school teachers and pupils, Mr. Etheridge has succeeded this spring in having 500 samples of corn and other seeds tested for germination.

Including these samples and others tried out privately in the homes, 1,000 farmers know now what percentage of corn may be expected to sprout, grow and how much corn to plant to the acre.

Farmers in Oconto-co have made a good start in small grain seeding and if the weather remains favorable they will finish in a few days.

In a short time the potato growers of the county will be collecting in groups at their cheese factories, for the purpose of treating their seed potatoes. At the farm of Huro Delzer, town of Morgan, a potato seed-treating demonstration was held last Wednesday at which 150 bushels of seed potatoes were treated, according to Mr. Etheridge.

The area test of the dairy herd of Oconto-co is progressing very satisfactorily and may be completed by June 15 or before.

NEWS ABOUT PRICES PAID TO FARMERS

Madison—(P)—Light trading featured the markets of the state last week, according to a weekly review issued by the state department of markets.

Trading on butter markets was generally quiet. Buyers showed little interest, and confined their purchases to urgent needs. Most of the business was on medium scores. Offerings were fairly liberal. Top scores were high price, and receivers in some quarters were sending fancy butter to the receivers to avoid losses. Cold storage holdings of butter at the four principal markets on May 3 amounted to 1,576,084 pounds as compared with 1,333,803 pounds on the same day last year. Butter prices were a half cent higher than at this time a year ago.

Buyers of cheese showed little interest and trading was quiet. Cold storage holdings of cheese at the four principal markets on May 3 amounted to 6,955,985 pounds as compared with 4,409,753 pounds on the same day last year. Cheese prices were a half cent higher than this time a year ago.

Hog prices, after a month of price improvement, were featured by a pronounced decline on hogs of all weights and grades. Better grade hogs sold 50 to 75 cents, lower grade kinds 75 cents to one dollar lower, medium light hogs and pigs 75 cents to $1.25. Several carloads were sold at a year ago. Several factors brought about this decline, the marketing department says, among them being the unsatisfactory fresh pork trade in eastern consuming centers. Hog prices are about the same as a year ago.

Butter prices are about $1.40 higher than last year, and sheep prices about the same as a year ago.

SUBSTITUTE CROPS PROVIDE GOOD HAY, EXPERIMENT SHOWS

Give Long List of Emergency Crops That Will Provide Food for Cattle

BY W. F. WINSEY
On account of the winterkilling of a large percentage of the alfalfa and clover fields in Wisconsin, a large number of dairy cows will be short on choice kinds of hay next winter and will get nothing better than June grass pasture and timothy or marsh hay unless their owners soon decide to raise emergency crops of pasture and hay.

A good emergency pasture according to J. I. Etheridge, Oconto, for this section of the state, is sweet clover, seeded with a nurse crop of oats. The oats may be cut for hay or for grain. If the oats are cut early in 1928, the sweet clover has a better chance to develop into pasture and may supply pasture from early in August on through the fall months.

G. E. Mortimer, agronomy department, college of agriculture, says that the best emergency hay crops for Wisconsin are soybeans, oats, field peas, Sudan grass and soybean-sudan grass, sweet clover seeded alone or with oats.

As an insurance against the loss of corn crop to fill silos by an early frost, a field of sunflowers may be expected to do well on that produces corn, and to produce more tons to the acre than corn at a cheaper cost for labor. They also do well on low lands where early frosts injure corn.

"Soybeans yield from one to three tons of hay per acre, the amount depending on the rainfall and temperature," says E. J. Delwiche and G. M. Briggs, college of agriculture, in Bulletin 375.

"For hay, soybeans may be planted up to June 1 although the earlier planting is conducive to cutting for hay in better hay weather. On fertilizer soils, the beans also may be drilled with a corn planter or with a grain drill with some of the spouts stopped up."

As the result of trials, Mr. Mortimer has concluded that with oats and Canada field peas the best yield of cured hay may be obtained when the peas are seeded at the rate of two and one-half bushels to the acre and when

SET NEW RECORD FOR TUBERCULIN TESTS IN MONTH OF MARCH

Figures Show More Than Million Were Tested With but Few Diseased Ones Found

Washington—More than 1,000,000 cattle were given the tuberculin test during March, according to a summary of progress in the eradication of tuberculosis of livestock just issued by the Department of Agriculture.

This is the largest number of cattle given the test in a month in the history of the campaign against the disease, the department officials declared. Out of the total tested—1,009,731—there were found 27,399 carrying tuberculous germs.

In spite of the extensive activity, the demand for testing in most states exceeds present facilities, it was said. At the end of March there were more than 3,500,000 still on the waiting list for the tuberculin test.

The number of counties which have completed a series of tests of all cattle with the result that one half of 1 percent has reached what the department calls an "impressive" total of 447.

The number of cattle in herds accredited by state and federal authorities as free from tuberculosis exceeds 2,000,000, and the number under supervision for eradication of the disease tops 20,000,000.

KOLB WILL ADDRESS WELFARE WORKERS
Marquette—(P)—J. H. Kolb, professor of agricultural economics, University of Wisconsin, will be one of the principal speakers before the Northern Wisconsin Conference of Social and Civic Welfare here May 22, 23, and 24.

He is expected to tell of plans and previous acts in setting adult agencies to work for boys and girls. From either Kiherson or Pedgore No. 1, oats are seeded at one and one bushels per acre. The best yield was obtained with one and one-half bushels Kiherson, oats and two and one-half bushels peas.

"Sudan" grass and soybean make a good emergency hay crop when one and one-half bushels of Manchou soybeans and 10 pounds of Sudan grass are sown. Sudan grass alone often yields over 4 tons of hay to the acre.

A study of 350 organizations in five Wisconsin counties, farmers' clubs, parent-teacher organizations, and various forms of men's and women's clubs, Prof. Kolb has drawn his conclusions.

Representatives of community centers in 21 northeastern counties are to take part in the conference, sponsored by the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work.

Doctor Found Women and Children Sick More Often than Men

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, head-aches, biliousness and all of them required first thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of Dr. Caldwell's 47 years' practice he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1876, he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with peppermint. In 1922 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in Dr. Caldwell's private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of a working day someone somewhere is using a drug store to buy Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed.

While women, children and elderly people are especially benefited by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, it is promptly effective on the most robust constitution and in the most obstinate cases. It is mild and gentle in its action and does not cause griping and strain. Containing neither opiates nor narcotics, it is safe for the tiniest baby. Children like it and take it willingly.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home, where many live someone is sure to need it quickly.

We would be glad to have you prove it at our expense. How much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

Here And There Among The Farmers--

BY W. F. WINSEY

Pulaski—The Pulaski Canning Company is installing line shafts and a full equipment of machinery in its factory for canning corn, beans and beets. The field men of the company are making acreage contracts with prospective growers of these vegetables.

Oconto Falls—Fieldmen of the Falls Canning company are now distributing corn, bean and beet seed among growers who will plant an acreage equal to that of last year. Although the season is backward, the prospect for a good crop is promising provided the weather warms up soon. The company is now completing a new office and is installing considerable new machinery. The market has been very good for canned beans and fair for canned corn. Cans for the season's best pack were unloaded at the factory Monday.

Gillett—Norman O. Sorenson of this village lectured before the women's and club's clubs, girls' auxiliary and the domestic science high school classes of Vulcan and Norway, Friday, May 4, on the packing, quality and purchasing of canned food. He delivered a lecture, Monday in the high school here to a high school class on Crimo in Wisconsin and the Prison System. Mr. Sorenson, who is the secretary of Gillett Canning Company, is connected with a Chicago lecture bureau and is a lecture specialist for canners.

Gillett—The Gillett Canning Company has disposed of nearly all of its stock of canned goods. The company already has planted 150 acres of peas as a part of a proposed 650 acres. Beside the peas, the company intends to plant 200 acres of beans and 60 acres of beets and is getting out the balance of the seed.

"In case it is desired to grow in the hope of a favorable season and still have sunflowers as an insurance against crop failure, it is best to grow the two separately. At harvest the corn and the sunflowers can be mixed in the silo by putting in alternate loads. A good way is to plant the corn and sunflowers in adjoining fields in such a manner that at each round of the binder one-half corn and the other half sunflowers is cut. The loading is done in the same way and when run through the silage cutter, the two crops will be well mixed."

"Cross cultivation, which is allowed by planting sunflowers in check rows, aids in the control of weeds. A method followed by the Ashland station with good success consists of keeping the

SUNFLOWERS MAKE GOOD SILAGE WHEN CORN CROP FAILS

State Men Have Found It to Be Valuable Feed and Make Experiments

BY W. F. WINSEY
Sunflowers did not fail to play an important part as an emergency or regular crop in Wisconsin for filling silos as result of experiments made by farmers and experiments and comparisons made through several years by experts of the college of agriculture in two or more of the agricultural experiment stations.

Sunflowers appear to do in well in low lands where corn is often injured by frost, peat soils, heavy clay soils and wherever a crop of corn will grow. Their yield to the acre is greater than corn and their cost is less.

In Circular 220, issued lately by the college of agriculture, E. D. Holden and E. J. Delwiche, the authors, say: "Sunflowers should be grown for silage where corn cannot be depended on. Some of these localities are Peat and other low lands where, owing to a lack of good soil and drainage, summer frosts are frequent, localities having good soil conditions for corn but where, owing to high altitude or other topographical conditions, corn is not dependable for silage and where planting has to be delayed too late in spring to permit the maturing of a corn crop."

"In case it is desired to grow in the hope of a favorable season and still have sunflowers as an insurance against crop failure, it is best to grow the two separately. At harvest the corn and the sunflowers can be mixed in the silo by putting in alternate loads. A good way is to plant the corn and sunflowers in adjoining fields in such a manner that at each round of the binder one-half corn and the other half sunflowers is cut. The loading is done in the same way and when run through the silage cutter, the two crops will be well mixed."

"Cross cultivation, which is allowed by planting sunflowers in check rows, aids in the control of weeds. A method followed by the Ashland station with good success consists of keeping the state have running water in the home, and less than one-twelfth have sewage disposal," he reports. "Only 35,000 of the 190,000 Wisconsin farms are equipped with electricity, and even in these homes there is a notable lack of running water."

In the pioneer days, the availability of water always determined the site of the buildings. Generally the house was near a spring or a depression where water could be reached with a shallow well. Then came the deep well and the windmill. Now running water is the next step, he declared.

Although many of the windmills have been replaced by gas engines and more recently by electric motor, Jones says these should be maintained as long as they give satisfactory service. However, instead of purchasing a new windmill or constructing a new electric water system for the farm house and the herd.

"Farmers with electricity and who are ready to install a water system, should aim to get a compact electrical, driven by pneumatic unit, made complete by one company," the engineer stated. "There but meager economy in purchasing a piece here and another thing there, for as a result no reputable organization will stand back of the final system. Buying a tested plant of a reliable firm, with service men to render real service, is always more satisfactory than shopping to be economical."

The convenience of the indoor toilet is the strongest attraction that induces farmers to install a pressure water system, Jones added.

A BOXING RECORD

NEW YORK—The world's long distance boxing record was revealed by Charles Alexander Mason and Carl Hollander, upon their return from Southampton on the steamship Lapland. They had boarded the Lapland at New York to say good-bye to some friends. There was still time to spare so they started a sparring bout in the ship's gymnasium. They were still boxing when the ship put anchor. Later, they reached the deck in time to wave farewell to the twinkling lights of Manhattan. At Southampton, because they had no passports, they could not go ashore and were transferred to the Lapland for the return "bout."

Treated Corn Seed Outyields Untreated 5 to 15 Bushels per Acre

Remarkable Results secured by U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, State Agricultural Colleges, Big Seed Houses, and Thousands of Corn Growers throughout the Corn Belt

Every experienced corn grower knows that heavy corn losses are due either to unsuspected diseases in the seed, or to disease in the soil infecting the seed after it is planted.

Bayer seed treatment protects seed corn from disease both on the seed and in the soil. It prevents seedling blight, root rot, and other diseases that literally steal the results of your hard work in hot fields.

At a cost of less than five cents an acre, it has increased corn yields for thousands of practical corn growers from 5 to 15 bushels per acre. It insures germination and sturdy growth never before possible from poor seed and benefits the best seed by protecting it from injurious and costly attacks of soil-infecting organisms.

Easy to Use
You need no special equipment for this new seed treatment. No tiresome or lengthy procedure is involved. Two bushels of seed can be treated in less than three minutes.

Treat Other Seeds Too
Use Bayer seed treatment for your potatoes and other vegetables and help prevent the costly diseases that cause poor germination, weak, spindly plants and low yields of crops.

One pound treats 6 bushels of seed corn, or 6 to 8 bushels of vegetable seed, or 15 to 20 bushels seed potatoes.

RUNNING WATER AND ELECTRICITY IS BIG FARM CONVENIENCE

Yet Only 35,000 of 190,000 Badger Farmers Have Installed Them, Report

Madison—Running water shares with electricity the honor of being the greatest single convenience that can be installed in Wisconsin farm homes, declares E. R. Jones, chief agricultural engineer at the University of Wisconsin.

"Less than one-sixth of the farms in ground well worked through early June, then planting six seeds in a hill about three feet apart each way. Cultivation is continued as long as growth permits. At other stations the growth of sunflowers was exceedingly dense and inspection in July and August showed the ground to be bare of other vegetation. In these trials the sunflowers proved to be a most effective another crop and open up new possibilities in weed eradication."

"In a nine year average, the yield of corn silage was nearly 7 tons to the acre and the labor cost per ton was $4.67 while the yield of sunflowers was 10 tons to the acre and the labor cost per ton was $2.23."

"The Giant Russian or Mammoth Russian variety of sunflowers is the best to grow for silage purposes. The silo should be prepared for them in the same manner as for corn. Sunflowers are best planted at corn planting time. The seed may be planted later than corn and the crop will even then mature earlier than corn."

"The corn planter, with the proper plates, handles sunflower seed satisfactorily. The grain drill may be used by plugging up some of the spouts. The seeds should be drilled one to two inches deep in rows about three feet apart. The rate of planting should be such that the plants are spaced, eight to ten inches apart in the row. This will ordinarily take six to seven pounds of seed to the acre."

"Sunflowers are cultivated in the same manner as corn. It is desirable to keep the soil loose and mellow until the weeds down until the sunflowers are large enough to shade the ground."

Tests Conducted by U. S. Dept. of Agriculture of Agriculture Show that the Bayer Dust treatment of nearly disease-free Dent Corn gave an increase of 8.5 bushels per acre; of Diploidia infected seed, 15.8 bushels, and of Gibberella infected seed, 28.9 bushels—Phytopathology, Jan., 1926

Read what users say after actual field tests:
HENRY C. REINERS, Emden, Ill.
"The stand of treated corn was better than the untreated. The early growth and vigor of the treated corn was much better. There were less spindly stalks and they seemed to grow faster. We noticed particularly when picking seed that there were fewer barren and weak stalks, and much better seed corn on the treated than the untreated rows. In my estimation the difference in yield ranged from 5 to 15 bushels per acre."

HENRY A. BOYER, Milford, Ill.
"I treated all my seed corn with Bayer and I surely could tell the difference. We counted 25 hills of treated corn and they had 49 ears on them, and 25 hills of untreated corn had 37 ears on them. The way we figured it, it made about 8 bushels per acre more. I will say that I will never plant corn again without treating it, and I want to tell you that most of my neighbors will treat their corn this spring."

Parrots

To most of us there seems little in common between the stealthy, soft-flighted Owl of the night and the joyous, chattering Parrot. But the fact is the Parrot claims cousinship both with the Cuckoo and the Owl. The artist has sketched here a meeting of parrots, from the painting by Henry Stacy Marks.

The Parrot's beak is an implement of greater power than we suspect. Some species can crack Brazil nuts. Here is an African Gray Parrot.

Some ornithologists count more than 600 species of parrots. Few enter the temperate zones. The bird shown above is a Green Parakeet.

First in the Parrot family come the Nestors of New Zealand. They are the Kea and the Kaka, both with long beaks and fringed tongues. The Kea, strange terrible bird, has become a sheep-killer. It settles on sheep's backs, delves with its hooked beak into the flesh and exposes vital organs, causing the poor sheep to die in misery. (To Be Continued)

HEALTH DEPARTMENT MOVES TO KEEP DOGS TIED UP IN SUMMER

Prevalence of Rabies Causes Kaukauna Authorities to Take Action

Kaukauna—Dogs in the city will be ordered tied up within a few days, Dr. W. N. Nolan, city health officer, said Wednesday. Numerous complaints have been received at his office that dogs are permitted to run about the city and damage other people's property. Dr. C. A. Harper of the state board of health recently stated that a more than usual number of cases of rabies have been reported to the state office. Dr. Harper has urged that every dog be tied and muzzled for at least three months. He also urged immediate attention to wounds caused by dogs and the Pasteur treatment is recommended.

Dr. Harper also has warned of the epidemic of meningitis in the state. It was hoped that during the summer of 1927 the disease would be wiped out but such has not been the case. A total of 194 deaths resulted in 1927 from meningitis in all forms and 116 of them were found to be of the epidemic or meningococcal type. The heaviest prevalence was found to be in Milwaukee with many widely scattered cases. From January 1 to April 1 of 1927 a total of 74 cases were reported and 67 for that same period this year.

POLICEMAN SETS PACE AT INFORMAL TRAPSHOOT

Kaukauna—Harold Engerson, the newest member of the Kaukauna polo team, won first place in an informal trapshoot at the Kaukauna Gun club grounds Wednesday afternoon when he broke 105 out of 125 possible clay birds. His scores were 21, 22, 21, 21 and 20. Joseph Jansen was second with 78 out of 100. Only a few marksmen attended the shoot. The next one in which Kaukauna men will participate will be the Northwestern Wisconsin Trapshooting league meet at Waupaca on May 20.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEE'S CAR STRUCK BY TRAIN

Kaukauna—An automobile driven by J. C. Burns, district master car builder, was struck by a train on the Chicago and North Western "railroad" way struck by a switch engine on the Mainway crossing early Wednesday morning. The locomotive was moving at a slow rate of speed and Mr. Burns was not injured although the side of the car was badly damaged. He had stopped for the crossing and was about to give a passby a ride when the car was struck onto the tracks directly in front of the oncoming engine. Arthur Gontrey was engineer on the switch engine.

BUY EQUIPMENT FOR TENNIS CLUB COURTS

Kaukauna—Directors of Kaukauna Tennis club at its meeting Wednesday evening voted to purchase three tennis nets and three court marker tapes for the lowest bidder in the city. Work on the tennis courts will be started as soon as the tapes arrive. It was reported that plans for the annual ball of the tennis club at Elks club on Friday evening, have been completed.

RADIO FINDS BROTHER OF MAN DEAD AT KAUKAUNA

Kaukauna—A missing brother was located within fifteen minutes through the Manitowish radio station on Tuesday. William Dregor of this city died Sunday morning and all of his brothers with the exception of Charles, have been reached and notified of the death. No one seemed to know how to reach the other brother whose whereabouts were unknown until someone suggested broadcasting the fact from a nearby radio station. The Manitowish station was selected and within fifteen minutes after the announcement had been broadcast a phone call was received and the brother, who had been working on a lake boat some distance from Manitowish, said he had heard it and would leave at once for Kaukauna.

HURDLE STAR LOST TO KAUKAUNA TRACK TEAM

Kaukauna—The track and field team of Kaukauna High school received another blow on Wednesday, when it was announced that Richard Ferguson, star dash and hurdle man, had broken a bone in his ankle and would be unable to compete in the conference meet at Neenah Saturday. This would seem to put Kaukauna definitely out of the race for conference honors.

Perguson, who was first in the low hurdles at Neenah Saturday and finished third in the high hurdles, was also one of the fastest members of the relay team.

WILL BUILD ROAD IN TOWN OF BRILLION

Highway Is Surveyed and Board Lets Contracts for Improvement

Special to Post-Crescent
Forest Junction—Following staking of the project last week by Engineer Frank M. Charlesworth, Jr., Kaukauna, the Brillion town board of supervisors, in a special session at the town hall here Monday evening, made arrangements to let a contract for improvement of a stretch of country line road between town of Brillion, Calumet-co and town of Holland, Brown-co.

The road is located east of what is known as Winkler's corner on the county line and the stretch in question covers a distance of 1250 feet, where the traveled path follows a tortuous course on a clay bed through a series of elevations and depressions. The towns of Brillion and Holland hold jurisdiction over alternating stretches of the boundary and the project under consideration lies wholly within the jurisdiction of town Brillion.

Excepting for a few loads of gravel spread over the surface, no attempt ever has been made to improve the road, which has been virtually impassable much of the time. The project, according to the survey, involves handling of some 700 cubic yards of earth. The initial survey was made last fall.

The falling of an ornamental glass window from an upper story, shortly before a wedding party was due to enter the building, occasioned a little excitement at Zion Evangelical church Tuesday forenoon. The window appears to have been loosened from its frame in some unknown way and is believed to have fallen when shoved by the wind. Situated directly over the main entrance, it was smashed to pieces on the walk below.

Holstein dairymen from here are attending the annual Clark classic at Fond du Lac this week. Local consignments to the sale, are six head of purebred from the Klehn and Seybold herd.

A three day service will be held in honor of St. Theresa, the Little Flower of Jesus beginning Monday evening May 14, and ending Thursday evening May 17, at the Holy Name church.

The services will be conducted by Father Vander Hyden, Minneapolis. Special services will be held at 7 o'clock on Tuesday and Wednesday evening.

New shrubbing and trees have arrived for the Holy Name cemetery and will be planted this week by the boys of the Junior Holy Name Society under the direction of Father Skall assistant superintendent of the work. Many new monuments also are being erected in the cemetery.

The Royal Neighbors met Wednesday evening in the clubhouse.

A 1357 mile automobile trip was completed by Rev. P. N. Van Nistlero, Pastor of Holy Name parish, and the Rev. Lochman, of Kaukauna, Tuesday. The trip extended through New Orleans, St. Louis, and San Antonio, Texas, a route through Tulsa, Kansas City, Kansas, and Iowa, was taken back into Wisconsin. Rev. Van Nistlero describes Dallas and San Antonio as two flourishing southern cities.

Paris Wears the Untrimmed Coat for Summer

Tailored beautifully and furless—that is the late fashion in coats in both the lower priced and finer models. The newest ones are of Botany flannel, velveteen or, for the warm days of summer, georgette. Chic detail and simplicity of line with fabric of superior quality combine to make these coats appropriate for many occasions.

Unlined Flannel Coats, $17.50

To throw on over a smart sports frock, to wear on warm days when only the slightest protection is needed, to give that well-dressed feeling that comes only with the wearing of a wrap outdoors, no matter how little the weather demands it—the unlined flannel coat is perfect. In jade, porcelain blue, buttercup yellow and white. $17.50.

The Full-Length Coat of Velveteen, $17.50

Its only trimming rows and rows of beautifully even stitching, the coat of black velveteen is simple enough for morning wear, smart enough for afternoon. $17.50.

The Unlined Coat of Black Georgette, $12.75

In black georgette, it has unusual charm when it is worn over a white frock or one of the brilliant flowered prints. A distinctive coat for summer wearing at $12.75.

Hip-Length Coats of Flannel, Velveteen, Leather $5.95, $10 and $16.75

Mannishly tailored and designed for sports wear only. In flannel at $10, with a choice of black, navy and several pastel shades. In velveteen at $5.95 and $10. In leather, blue, green, and red at $16.75.

Deep Reductions in Fur Scarfs and Chokers

At the very height of the season with months ahead to wear them daily, fur scarfs are substantially reduced at Pettibone's. It isn't necessary to tell how fine they are. You will realize that for yourself when you select yours tomorrow in the Fur Section. In many shades and a wide variety of furs at extraordinary savings.

Red Fox Scarfs Now $22.50

A fur becoming to almost everyone and more than practical for it is smart with light frocks as well as with your tailored suit or coat. In several shades at $22.50.

Henrosine Fox Scarfs $15

This South American fur has a soft charm that belies its low price. A choice of beige or gray at $15.

Blue and Gray Wolf $39.50

No woman can resist the delightful flattery of a wolf scarf. Although so moderately priced, it has the richness and depth of color that characterize costly furs. In blue or gray at $39.50.

Pointed Fox Unusually Fine $69.50

If you feel that the scarf of silver fox is beyond your budget, you will find a handsome substitute in pointed fox, which gives much the same effect at a very great saving. Deeply reduced and now priced at $69.50.

Cross Fox Scarfs $55

Other Red Fox Scarfs from $32.50 up
Brown Fox $50

For Mother

Being a List of Gifts That Will Bring Her Happiness on Mother's Day

Next Sunday is Mother's Day and it follows naturally that you will come to Pettibone's to choose something that you know she needs or wants. A few suggestions are listed here for those who need a bit of help in this most important gift choosing. Bring your packages to the Mail Order Department on Fourth Floor and let us take care of the mailing.

Her Purse of Calf or Goatskin—$3.00 and up

Among all the thoughtful gifts for Mother's Day none will be received with more genuine delight than a new purse in either the bag or envelope shape. In vacchette, calf, ostrich or goatskin in tan, blonde, gray, red and green. $3 to $25. Mesh bags at $3.50. The smartest new silk bags at $3 and upward.

—First Floor—

Her Umbrella Must Have a Distinctive Handle $5.00

It won't be hard to find a charming handle for there are many new styles that are smart. And the umbrella itself is of heavy quality silk and comes in several colors with novel borders. Tips and top of amber. A special value at $5.

—First Floor—

Perfumes and Toilet Waters Must Be Carefully Chosen $1.00 and upwards

Fatal to choose one that she doesn't really like, but there is no chance of that if you decide on Coty's. In various sizes at $1, $2 and $2.95. Houbigant's at $1 and $2. Yardley's exquisite lavender bath powder at $1.50. Coty's Toilet Water at $3.49.

—First Floor—

"Old Bleach" Two-Toned Double Damask Sets $32.50 to $53.50

A dinner cloth, two yards square, with six napkins comes in this heavy double damask at $32.50 a set. The napkins are oblong, 24x18 inches. Larger cloths with a set of a dozen napkins at $48.50 and $53.50 a set. "Old Bleach" hand-painted sets, guaranteed to retain their color, come in gorgeous flower patterns at $65.75.

—First Floor—

Double-Width Hand-Tinted Rainbow Scarfs $5.75

If you are uncertain about what to select for her, she will welcome a new scarf, especially a wide chiffon one in rainbow colors. One never has too many scarfs and these are very lovely. $5.75. Black and white crepe scarfs at $3.50 and up to $7.50.

—First Floor—

Artistic Flower Pots of Lovely Colored Glass $1.00

In black, opal green, rose and iridescent glass, these new flower pots have the necessary saucer to protect table or window sill. If she loves flowers, this will please her. $1.
